AN INVITATION TO PASTORS

If you're pastoring an African American church, Lott Carey invites you to transform your ministry visions and magnify your pastoral impact. How? By enrolling in the Lott Carey Pastoral Excellence Program.

Twenty pastors will participate in each ministry immersion group for three years.

As a program participant, you'll have unique and abundant opportunities for personal, professional, and spiritual growth.

You'll be enriched by ministry immersion experiences in three different African Diaspora contexts: Guyana (South America), Jamaica (West Indies), and Italy (Europe).

Through interaction with other pastoral participants, you'll also develop supportive networks of peers and colleagues. You'll rekindle your passion for learning. And as old assumptions fall by the wayside, new insights will empower your ministry.

An application form can be found on the back of this brochure. Don't miss the deadline for your participation in Lott Carey's Pastoral Excellence Program.

EXPECTATIONS OF PARTICIPANTS

- ▶ Collaborative service with hosts in Guyana, Jamaica, and Italy
- ▶ Participation in peer groups
- ▶ Investment in learning through didactics and Internet studies
- ▶ Development of a deeper global understanding of ministry
- ▶ Attendance at Lott Carey's U.S. conferences
- ▶ Participation in the program's commencement conference

WHO SHOULD APPLY?

- ▶ Pastors of African American churches in the United States
- ▶ Pastors with a minimum of three years of pastoral experience
- ▶ Pastors with at least two years at their present congregation

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

- ▶ Complete the application on the back of this brochure, submitting it by the stated date for your preferred team
- ▶ Provide three letters of recommendation, including one from the deacons ministry in your present congregation
- ▶ Write a personal statement of interest (maximum of 300 words)
- ▶ Submit a one-page resume plus a one-page biography
