2008–2009 ANNUAL REPORT OF
EXECUTIVE SECRETARY-TREASURER
Lott Carey Baptist Foreign Mission Convention
Rev. David Emmanuel Goatley, Ph.D.

On behalf of the Lott Carey family around the world, I extend greetings to all and express gratitude to God for the privilege of being God’s daughters and sons and of having the privilege of touching lives with the transforming love of Christ. We are blessed with a unique collection of gifted and passionate people in the Lott Carey network who believe that missions—sending disciples of Jesus into God’s world to touch people’s lives with the transforming love of Christ—is not what churches do, but this is who we are. Thank you for sharing in the glimpses of service that the Lott Carey family supports around the world. These “snapshots” are only a sample of the impact we make through the power of the Holy Spirit. I invite you to read and rejoice and remember those who serve, who are served, and who wait to receive service.

The strategic plan that guides our work from 2007–2012 includes the following:

MISSION

The Lott Carey Baptist Foreign Mission Convention has been committed to the theme of “building a better world through Christian missions” since the first half of the 20th Century. We are still committed to that goal. We believe that Christian missions—sending Christian disciples, empowered by the Holy Spirit, into God’s world to touch lives with the transforming love of Christ—is at the heart of the Christian church and the Christian life. While we are unapologetically committed to the centrality of Christian missions, we are unrelentingly devoted to relevant missional service for the 21st Century. We intend to serve the present age. We maintain our core. We adjust our strategies.

VISION AND VALUE

Lott Carey has a vision of becoming a premier global Christian missions agency. We will live into this vision by maintaining our commitment to strengthen relationships, promote collegiality, and advance mutual respect throughout our robust global network. We will continue to improve integrating international leaders in various phases and levels of direction-setting and decision-making. We will demonstrate our commitment to international partners by being faithful through times of challenge, responding when needs arise, and investing in people when and where it is difficult to find reason for hope. We will demonstrate the agility to adapt strategies that enable us to respond to needs and opportunities for service.

STRATEGIC PRIORITIES FOR 2007–2012

Goal 1: To increase global impact

Goal 2: To enlarge resource support base

Goal 3: To sustain the Hurricane Response Strategy in the Gulf Coast of the US

Goal 4: To continue implementation of HIV/AIDS Initiative

Goal 5: To sustain the Pastoral Excellence Program

Goal 6: To strengthen International Youth Development Programs

Goal 7: To extend advocacy program on behalf of women and children in prostitution

Goal 8: To strengthen organizational development

The contributions of our partners from around the world contained in the pages of this annual report offer samples of value, work that brings positive feelings, examples of impact and excellence, and dreams for the future. You will note that we are not doing all that could be done, and we publish several of the pleas and proposals for additional support for special projects. Perhaps the voices from around the world will prompt you to pray for discernment concerning what continuing roles God is calling you to fill as we work together to touch lives with the transforming love of Christ.

In preparation for hearing from our global partners, I want share some updates on our progress on our strategic plan.

To increase global impact

We launched our current strategic plan prior to the unprecedented economic recession the United States has been in since January 2008. Consequently, we have not been able to enlarge our global impact in ways that we have traditionally known, namely adding financial resources to existing or new global partnership initiatives. However, we have been able to leverage our present relationships and resources to meet our goal of increasing our global impact. In January 2009, we were able to forward nearly 10,000 postcards urging the new administration of President Barak Obama to keep his campaign pledge to make peace, justice, and security in Darfur a priority. We did this project in collaboration with the Save Darfur Coalition on whose Board of Directors I sit. Further, the Baptist Convention of South Africa is working to provide leadership development and theological training for Baptists in Namibia. They are building on the strength that we have supported them to develop to reach out to a neighboring country to assist their missional growth and development. These are two examples of recent efforts to increase our global impact even against that backdrop of decreasing financial resources.

To enlarge resource support base

We have been fortunate to realize increasing partnership financial support from our collaboration in the Gulf Coast of the United States. Our investments in Louisiana following hurricanes Katrina and Rita have resulted in cultivating new partnerships of global collaboration from churches in Louisiana. Our most recent partnership in Texas following the historic hurricane Ike that devastated Galveston has introduced us to new networks of sisters and brothers that are maturing into partnerships for missional impact outside the country. We are enriched by the fellowship and discovery of creative gifts among churches and communities of churches we had not known before.

To sustain the Hurricane Response Strategy in the Gulf Coast of the US

Our Hurricane Response Strategy has emerged in innovative and impacting ways since its inception just weeks following hurricane Katrina in 2005. Our initial steps were to communicate needs for direct support and help to organize strategic supplies for Relief in the weeks following the hurricanes. Our next step was to develop a network of Resurrection Centers in six cities across Louisiana and Mississippi through which we were able to fund and help coordinate pastoral care ministry, social service support, mental health counseling, and child development programs. An unprecedented generous grant of $1 million from the Fountain Baptist Church, Summit, New Jersey led by Pastor J. Michael Sanders enabled us to partner to extend the Resurrection strategy through The Fountain Project which provided counseling and coaching for pastors, ministry grants for churches, life and job skills training and scholarships to more than 100 households, and support for sustainable community development projects. We are currently submitting grant proposals to foundations to move toward building resiliency for families through marriage enrichment and parenting training. Our success with our partners in Louisiana and Mississippi enabled us to replicate similar work through the Resurrection Center model following hurricane Ike in Texas.

To continue implementation of HIV/AIDS Initiative

Our attempts to secure direct funding from the US government have not been very successful. We secured a modest grant to demonstrate our capacities for effective HIV/AIDS prevention, care, and support ministries in Kenya and India. While we successfully achieved our goals, we have been unable to translate the modest success into more substantial partnership. Consequently, we have altered our strategy to seek collaborative grants with partner organizations and/or to seek sub-awards from partner organizations with stronger capacity for proposal development and funding. We had a successful venture with the United States Department of Agriculture Graduate School with funding from the Center for Disease Control to conduct a training project for church leaders in on the campus of Mercer University in Atlanta, Georgia last year. An article is presently in publication for release in the latter part of 2009 in Howard University's Journal of Religious Thought.

To sustain the Pastoral Excellence Program

The gifted leadership of Rev. Brenda K. Harewood and Dr. Sheila K. Robbins has enabled our Pastoral Excellence Program (PEP) to be recognized as a strong program by our generous grantor, Lilly Endowment Inc. Beyond the general large-scale evaluation that our 120 pastors who completed the first phase of the award participated in, we are participating in a more in-depth research project that will result in a presentation for leaders in Continuing Education and Supervised Ministry in theological schools. We also anticipate participating in publications from our lessons that we are learning about the benefit of international learning immersions for pastoral professional development.

To strengthen International Youth Development Programs

The economic recession has prevented us from replacing our former Director of International Youth Development. Consequently, responsibilities have been divided among staff and volunteer youth leaders. Our 55th Annual Youth Seminar was held 20–26 June, 2009 on the campus of Shaw University in Raleigh, North Carolina. With 461 in attendance, we enjoyed an informing and inspiring week of missional learning and serving. A new dimension of the seminar this year was to introduce our young people to the place and priority of advocacy as part of our missional life. We had presenters from ONE, Genocide Intervention Network, and NAACP College and Youth Division to help us learn what advocacy is, why it is important, what their particular organizations did, and how our young people could make a difference as advocates. We rejoice in 25 decisions of young people to become disciples of Jesus. Additionally, we received a grant from the Fund for Theological Education to assist us in a project called, Calling Congregations. Five Washington, DC area churches are working together to learn how to more intentionally notice, name, and nurture young people who may have an openness to ministry as vocation. In addition to the enriched activities in local churches, the youth in the program have helped to plan a Hope Missions Day held at the Maple Springs Baptist Church in Capitol Heights, Maryland where Dr. Larry W. Jordan is Pastor; they attended the Youth Seminar at Shaw University; several of them attended the Caribbean Baptist Youth Festival in Nassau, Bahamas; and we are working on hosting a mission weekend working with homeless people in Philadelphia.

To extend advocacy programs on behalf of women and children in prostitution

Dr. Yvonne Y. Best has led a team in developing our advocacy program that began with concentrating on praying for and working for women and children who are forced into prostitution. We are helping to support programs in Ethiopia and South Africa, and we are especially grateful for additional grant support from Mt. Carmel Baptist Church in Washington, DC where Dr. Joseph Evans is Pastor for a training program to enable commercial sex workers in Addis Ababa to have safe and secure employment options and for special grant support from Enon Tabernacle Baptist Church in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania where Dr. Alyn E. Waller is Pastor to enlarge the work of the Home of Hope in Cape Town, South Africa for its rescue and rehabilitation work with young people caught in gang life, drug life, and prostitution.

To strengthen organizational development

We are grateful for the progress of our Board of Directors that was elected during the 111th Annual Session of Lott Carey. We have met four times during the year and are continuing our progress in implementing best practices in governance, strategy, and resource development. We will be having a two day fund development training session in November led by the School of Philanthropy at Indiana University. We look forward to continuing to improve our capacity to ensure the long-term viability of the Lott Carey movement and to live into our vision of becoming a premier global missions agency.

FALLEN COMRADES

The Lott Carey family is blessed by the faithfulness of sisters and brothers who labor faithfully to help extend the Christian witness to the ends of the earth. We rejoice in the lives and legacies of several in our family who have transitioned from life temporal to life eternal. We remember:

CONCLUSION

As I begin my 13th year as Lott Carey's chief executive officer, I continue to be blessed by the ministry of encouragement that so many people offer. Your words of support and your assurance of prayers for our staff, for me, and for my family continue to give strength for today and hope for tomorrow. By God's grace we will survive the current economic storms and see the dawn of new days with new opportunities for service.

I offer particular thanks to our phenomenal staff—Dr. Yvonne Y. Best, Rev. Brenda K. Harewood, Bro. Bernard Lott, Mrs. Tonga R. Peterson, and Dr. Sheila K. Robbins. We are lean but as strong and gifted a team of missional leaders as any community has. We are surrounded by a number of faithful volunteers who work as hard and as conscientiously as any employee could. We thank God for the faithful leadership of President Keith A. Troy who completes his term of service this year; Executive Board Chairman John M. Alexander, Jr. for his often unnoticed detailed leadership; and for Women's Auxiliary President Ida B. Finney, Laymen's League President Anthony Carrell; and International Youth Development Team Leader Amanda Haines for their servant-leader hearts and thoughtful, competent leadership gifts. Finally, I am thankful to my wife, Pamela, and our son, Atiba Emmanuel, who invest into this ministry large sacrifice of my absence with love and without complaint. To the entire Lott Carey family, you are loved and valued.

Associate for Program Development

The Witness of Courage in a Hurting World

The Lott Carey Baptist Foreign Mission Convention has historically been a partner to help churches extend their Christian witness of God’s love around the world. We have been faithful in providing support for health care through hospitals, clinics, medication and education to prolong the quality of life for those suffering illness and disease. In a recent visit to New Delhi and Bangalore, India I met with a village of families identified as “Forest People.” The “Forest People” lived and survived in the forest until recent years. The government has relocated them to a village.

The myriad needs they face seem insurmountable. Yet, the support and efforts of our mission partners is bringing hope, love and light to the darkness of their despair. Clean drinking water is being provided through wells, and the elderly are learning how to write their names in order to receive some support from the governmental agencies.

In New Delhi through the Lott Carey partnership and support, children are being educated and prepared for productive lives and hopeful futures.

During my visit to an area outside of Soweto, South Africa, I met people in a village where HIV/AIDS families lived without running water, sanitation or health care. Some of the members of one of our partner churches make daily visits as caregivers to meet the basic needs of the families and children. In response to learning about the need for clean water, one of our Lott Carey churches expressed the desire to furnish a Well for this community. The local government decided, for political reasons, quickly to proceed to install the needed well after learning that a church in the US had decided to provide a basic human necessity of clean drinking water. In addition, the officials also planned to initiate some health care services to this community. This Lott Carey church, unknowingly, was a catalyst in effecting change that promoted justice for a village of suffering people who were the voiceless and invisible to most of society. It demonstrates in a small way (although clean water was no small matter to the families) the effect our engagement and support can have on bringing attention to the needs of the “least of these.”

God intends that we remember God’s ancient work in equipping His people” to act justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly” (Micah 6:8). As we remember to do this we start by asking, what great work of justice might God perform through us, in our time to the glory of Christ? How might God renew through us the witness for biblical justice in the world? In rising to meet the blatant challenges of massive and brutal injustice, the Lott Carey Anti-Trafficking Initiative has joined the battle of advocacy on behalf of victims of human trafficking and sexual exploitation. The women, men and children oppressed and exploited around the world is a call for action.

Human trafficking and exploitation comes through taking a person’s freedom through coercion, forced labor, servitude, modern day slavery, commercial sex exploitation and prostitution. Through the leadership of the Women’s Auxiliary, Lott Carey is mobilizing people to support programs that rescue and restore women and children from the bondage of human slavery and commercial sex work. We are developing Anti-Trafficking workshops that will be a resource for equipping churches and organizations to work for and pray for the end of human trafficking. These workshops will also increase the awareness of the tragic realities of human trafficking around the world. This kind of advocacy that will free the oppressed and call the oppressors into account are new waters, new seas of a troubled and needy world but we are hearing the words of our Lord beckoning us, “Take courage! It is I. Don’t be afraid” (Matthew 14:27).

We are thankful for our Women’s Auxiliary leadership with this initiative. We are also grateful for the Laymen’s League’s leadership that supports the empowerment of children through the educational efforts of the Liberia 365 Campaign. Poverty breeds the exploitation and abuse of families and children. The Laymen’s efforts and support to nurture and educate children provides avenues of positive opportunities for their future.

MISSION EDUCATION PROGRAM

The Lott Carey Mission Education Program is a valuable resource for transformative learning opportunities for more than one thousand participants who register for the Annual Session annually. One of the expectations of the program is that the participants enlarge their global worldviews informed by God's intention for the world as revealed in Jesus Christ. They are challenged to mobilize and engage in mission service beyond the walls of the church as evidence of God's love in word and deed. This year our Mission education program is focused on The Present Future: Six Tough Questions for the Church, by Reggie McNeal. Participants should be able to understand and articulate the significance of "Churchianity versus Christianity" and how they influence our perspective of ourselves, our faith, our behavior and responses to a missional lifestyle. We have been blessed with a team of dedicated and gifted instructors who are prepared and committed to transforming opportunities as facilitators and learners. We are also thankful for the Mission Education Program volunteers and leaders whose tireless efforts enable the program to run efficiently. A missions class is provided on Saturday for all volunteers who are unable to attend class during the week or who choose to take an intense one-day course.

ANNUAL SESSION PLANNING AND IMPLEMENTATION

We are pleased that Dr. David C. Forbes serves as our Host Pastor for the 112th Annual Session of the Lott Carey Convention held in Raleigh, North Carolina. The Host Committee has worked diligently with us to provide an informative and inspirational event that promotes the investment of time, gifts and resources in missional lifestyles. Pre-Convention events begin with Sunday Worship Service with President Keith A. Troy preaching at both the Marriott Hotel and then at Christian Faith Baptist Church, Dr. David C. Forbes, Pastor. Our Mission Prayer Breakfast is held on Monday morning at the Marriott Hotel. We have the opportunity to lift up the prayer requests of our Mission partners who are with us during the Annual Session. The response to the Mission Blitz has been very positive, and requests for this missional opportunity increases each year. We will again provide community service through various social agencies that provide the sites throughout the city for volunteers. The community feast is the special opportunity for table fellowship with those we know and for the stranger who becomes a neighbor at the end of the meal. This year the musical is expected to be the grand finale to our pre-convention events as we prepare for the remaining week to be informed, inspired and motivated to "Go into all the world."

FIELD EDUCATION PLACEMENT—STUDENT INTERNS

Lott Carey has been enriched by affording the opportunity for graduate theological students to meet curriculum ministry requirements through supervision from our Lott Carey staff. This has been a wonderful opportunity to assist students in developing ministry proposals, directed reading and creative contributions to the ongoing work of our missional programs and initiatives. The engagement with students helps to mobilize leaders whose contributions can be of immense importance to the growth and development of the Lott Carey Convention.

PASTORAL EXCELLENCE PROGRAM

I continue to be blessed through participating in the Pastoral Excellence Program as a Team Leader with pastors from rich ministry experiences and in challenging global contexts. The fellowship, group discussions, reflections, and the team support is a blessing to all who share, whether the US travel teams or our host pastors and communities. Pastors are challenged by the disorientation that occurs in response to the international immersion experience and that precedes reorientation which evolves from the experiences and reflection. The PEP provides rich learning experiences for pastors who are in partnership with fellow pastors of other cultures and whose approaches to ministry may differ but the goal of proclaiming the Good News of God's redeeming love in Christ is the same. After three years of diverse immersion experiences it has been a joy to participate in the graduation services for these pastors.

PREACHING ENGAGEMENTS AND MISSIONS WORKSHOPS

The opportunity to facilitate mission workshops and the fellowship of worship with Lott Carey churches always provides a mutually rich exchange of information and inspiration. I thank you for the hospitality rendered and the efforts put forth to invite other churches, fellowships and associations to participate in the workshops and worship experiences. It is a privilege to serve the Lott Carey Convention and to work with gifted, dedicated and committed colleagues from around the world. I am very thankful for my family whose prayers and support under gird my efforts to fulfill my call do justice, love mercy and walk humbly.

2008–2009 ANNUAL REPORT

Lott Carey Baptist Mission School, Brewerville, Liberia

Rev. Emile D. E. Sam-Peal, Superintendent/Principal

To our Almighty father who continues to amaze us with his awesomeness and His graciousness we give praise and honor. We also give thanks to our benefactors through the Lott Carey Network for your prayers and commitment and faithfulness even in the midst of turbulent financial times which enable us to fulfill our calling and mission of providing the very best equality education here in Liberia in a wholesome manner.

The Lott Carey Baptist Mission Schools in Brewerville and Bopolu have provided quality education for academic excellence in a disciplined, safe, caring and nurturing environment over the last 101 years of existence here in Liberia. We are very proud of the rich heritage and cadre of students that this institution has sent forth from its sacred walls over the years who are now contributing meaningfully to the development of their communities, our nation and world. Our role as an educational institution (Nursery through 12th grade) is even more important now, even as we work with government in rebuilding our educational system and country out of the ashes of violence and greed. We are an integral force and a key player in the implementation of one of the four main pillars of the Poverty Reduction Strategy (PRS) initiated by our government, that of the revamping of the education sector.

This year our enrollment are as follows: LCM Brewerville campus, 1003 students (544 female and 459 male); and at the Bopolu Campus 192 students (77 female and 115 male).

VALUES

At LCM, there are certain core values that help shape who we are and affects how we minister throughout this community:

- Spiritual emphasis – The very foundation of this school was built on and through the evangelization of the gospel of Jesus Christ. This remains front and center even as we work to affect the whole person—spiritual, academic and social. The spiritual emphasis is through daily devotions, vespers, Bible clubs, Bible teaching, being examples for the students to see and other activities and programs which help to steer and influence their person.

- Academic Excellence – This has always been a hallmark for this institution as our school’s motto states succinctly, “Character, Industry, and Scholarship.” Both of our campuses (Brewerville and Bopolu) provide a unique opportunity to students in these and surrounding communities to access and achieve the very best in academic excellence available at a very minimal or miniscule fee compared to other institutions. Most students who complete the academic program at the LCM Bopolu campus (N–9th grade) will transfer to the Brewerville campus to complete their education. We have had several of these students who, after finishing high school, have performed excellently at external exams and at tertiary institutions at home and abroad. Student Prince Vincent, a graduate of LCM, completed his collage work in 3 ½ years with honors even while battling a debilitating heart condition. There are many others who, because of the foundation they received through our rigorous academic program, are today successful men and women in their various fields of service.

Last academic year, LCM boasted of the fact that ours was the only student to achieve Division 1 in the West African Examinations Council (WAEC) national exams in the entire country. We have been selected as one of few schools to sit the new national exams, West Africa Senior High School Certificate Exams (WASSCE) that will be introduced next academic school year. We consider this an honor and a challenge to be able to prepare adequately our students for the significant changes taking place in this realm. We must do all we can to ensure that our science labs are fully renovated, equipped and staffed to prepare our students for the exams.

- Professional Development Training – We are convinced that students will be further excited about learning as our teachers are better trained, motivated, and enabled to teach. So another core value of our institution is to enable and facilitate the training and equipping of our teachers to be the very best. One of our goals is to ensure that LCM becomes a laboratory for teacher training. We want to be a reference point for excellence in teacher training. We endeavor to expose our teachers to the very best practices available in teaching, learning and literacy; to relevant and current teaching methodologies; and to the dynamics of content materials presentation that engenders critical thinking and analysis from our students. We have embarked on a major shift in our teaching methodology from a “teacher centered” mode of learning to that of a “student or learner centered” mode of learning. This has greatly inspired and motivated our teachers to put the best foot forward at all times. We also hope to be able to provide adequate incentives so as to retain teachers that we have trained.

Our context of service is rife with economic constraints and hardships. This is especially so coming out of a long drawn civil conflict that destroyed our nation. Many families are impoverished and cannot afford to educate their children. LCM is proud to serve in this setting, because we provide this ministry for a very minimal fee and in some cases free. We provide quality education to all irrespective of gender, creed or economic status. Through the generosity of our benefactors of the Lott Carey Network, we are enabled to provide full tuition/financial aid and assistance to many students who otherwise would not be able to be in school.

During this academic year we provided 75 students with either partial or full tuition scholarship including books, uniforms and school supplies. We also provided to about 356 elementary school students copybooks, pens/pencils and other supplies. These students and their families beam with gratitude for this gesture offered them. Other students received a work grant to enable them stay in school. Even with our challenging financial situation as an institution, we have made it a priority as an administration to provide this much support to families in need. This gives us a sense of fulfillment that we can extend a hand and help lift up fallen humanity in very meaningful and tangible ways. On a personal level, most of our administrators and employees also help students in many and various ways through moral, financial and spiritual help. This institution is an oasis where we strive to create a loving, nurturing, safe and caring community for students and their families.

We are indeed grateful to God for the caliber of mature, responsible and passionate administrative team that we work with. We work, plan, pray and play together. We support, encourage, affirm, and help each other. This makes the work fun and easy. There are no “turfs” to protect. We have become vulnerable and open with each other and this makes a world of difference with the many daily challenges with which we are faced as an administration or as individuals. Together we are planning the work, and together we will work the plan. This makes us feel good and it is gradually spreading to the teachers, other employees and students. We feel good working at LCM. Even the relationship with our predecessor is very warm, cordial and open.

DREAMS

We dream of having adequate and functional academic spaces which engenders learning.

We dream of expanding and improving our vocational education component (Home Economics, Agriculture, Auto mechanics, computer training, and basic building construction).

We dream of re-introducing a nutritional feeding program that will encourage and ensure healthy, strong and active students.

We dream of the re-institution of the residential program which was a hallmark of this institution and a dire need.

We dream of being able to fence in and secure the school's physical property which is now vulnerable to encroachment, as well as property theft.

We dream of having an endowment so that this legacy of ours will live on and that many other students will be able to drink from this fountain and come to have their torches lit with LCM's bright flame.

We dream of an institution with national and international accreditation status (high school baccalaureate program).

We dream of, through our school's clinic, to provide basic health care services as an outreach to the community.

We dream of having a very robust recreational/extracurricular program (for after school, weekends, and during the annual vacation) to ensure that students and children in the community are engaged in creative activities that builds strong character and scholarship.

We dream of creating satellite LCMs throughout Liberia.

We dream of being an institution that strives towards the reduction of pollution by investing in and utilizing renewable energies to generate electricity for our use, thus minimize our dependency on generators.

We dream of having adequate transportation here that facilitates and enable our students to participate in field trips and other activities.

We dream of having clean, pure and safe drinking water available for our students and staff as well as to the immediate and surrounding communities.

We dream of having Internet technologies available so that our students and staff will be enabled to do research, explore and be connected to our world.

We dream of developing meaningful partnerships with institutions overseas where we will be able to involve our students, teachers and other staff in various exchange programs.

We dream of providing better incentives for all staff and employees of LCM.

We dream of LCM becoming an economically viable institution that is debt free (debts inhibits and stifles growth and development) where we have a sustained financial future to keep LCM's doors open for posterity.

God has been faithful in multiplying the loaves and the fish even through these very austere times. When we assumed the responsibilities of this institution, it was indebted to various vendors, institutions and individuals for goods and services to the tune of US$25,000. To date we have liquidated about 45% of that debt. Over the last two months we were constrained to declare redundant 26 employees who have served this institution for between 3 to 26 years (and arranged to pay them off gradually). All current employees of this institution have had to accept a mandatory 20–35% salary cut (as of March) until this economic crisis is over. This is required to enable us to stay afloat as an institution. We are grateful for the opportunity afforded us to be in God's service and to be of service to this great institution. God has brought us to this place for such a time as this.

We want to express our thanks and appreciation to our generous and gracious partners who have over the years stood with us and still standing with us. Thank you very much Dr. David Emmanuel Goatley for your leadership, your encouragement and the privilege to learn from you. You are indeed our Gamalial. May God bless you with much bounty. Thank you to the hard working employees, staff and students along with their families who make this journey fun, fulfilling and worthwhile. To God be the glory.

2008–2009 ANNUAL REPORT

Lott Carey Baptist Mission Charitable Trust, New Delhi, India
Richard S. Khemchand, Superintendent

Dear Friends,

Greetings to you in the precious name of our Lord and saviour Jesus Christ!

The year gone by has been an eventful one for the citizens of both Democracies—the U.S.A. and India. A General election was held in both countries where people overwhelmingly voted for a change—not only for a new Government but also for a better salubrious, secure and stable existence.

The whole world went into turmoil in the latter part of the year brought in by a global recession, affecting the world economy. The Lott Carey Baptist Foreign Mission Convention/The Lott Carey International, finding it difficult to raise funds, have had to make downward adjustments. Consequently, Mission partners must also adjust accordingly.

The India Mission, a senior member of the Lott Carey Family and in a lifetime partnership, felt it necessary to face up to the realities and support the Lott Carey International. It is in times of happiness and in times of sorrow, in times of birth and in times of death, in times of need and in times of plenty that members of a family stand by each other. Only a feeling of belonging can build a trust, and strengthen the bond.

“Now all has been heard;
Here is the conclusion of the matter:
Fear God and keep His commandments,
For this is man’s all.”

INTRODUCTION

The Lott Carey Baptist Foreign Mission Convention officially established an office in New Delhi, India in 1949. The medical work initially began with the treatment of leprosy patients in six colonies—3 in Delhi and 3 in the bordering State of Haryana. The lack of medical facilities in the outlying regions of the countryside inspired the Mission to work in these areas. Thanks to the advancement of medical science and the use of Multi-drug therapy, leprosy has been contained in the patients to the point of immunity in all our colonies.

Over the years, this service has been extended to all poor and needy patients—regardless of caste, colour or creed—through its mobile clinics and outpatient’s clinics. The humane attitude of the Doctors and the members of the staff towards all patients attending the clinics are noteworthy. The number of patients coming regularly from outlying and far away places bears out to the fame and goodwill the clinics have achieved over the years.

VALUES

All human beings are fundamentally the same. Each one needs to feel appreciated and understood; each one needs to belong to a person, a family or a group. Essentially, because we are followers of Christ we are able to fulfill the tremendous need of people waiting to be treated, to be cared for and to belong. Religion that is uncaring is worth nothing. The Bible emphasizes the duty of caring for the most vulnerable. Throughout we are never allowed to forget the widow and the orphan—who have always been real people with real needs.

EXAMPLES OF OUR IMPACT

Our focus is on reducing the risk of HIV/AIDS in the high-risk urban communities of our project area—Raghubir Nagar—a Transit Camp in north-west Delhi. The Care and Support Home for the afflicted community is run in rented premises in Tilak Nagar under the sponsorship of the Lott Carey Trust. The HIV/AIDS project was launched in the year 2006 with the help of the Lott Carey International. The grant through USAID funding was for a term of only one year. The Trust managed to maintain the project, against all odds. Today our prime concern is the need to increase the five-bed facility to at least fifteen beds.

In the last three years, the work done by our Doctor and his team of workers at the Care and Support Home has increased tremendously. The awareness and popularity of the Care and Support Home by the society has been a great encouragement to us. The workers run a non-formal teaching programme in the afternoon for not only the HIV/AIDS infected/affected children but also other poor children of the area. Approximately 40–50 children attend the classes daily.

The Doctor and his team have reopened the Raghurib Nagar Clinic and serve the local people daily for about two hours. In the last three years, the work done by our team at the Care & Support Home for this segment of society has increased tremendously the awareness and popularity of the Care & Support Home is a great compliment to us.

It gives us great joy to see the enthusiasm of the children who attend the Somerville Non-Formal Education Project started by us at the quarries at a village in the District outskirts of Faridabad. These children whiled away their time doing nothing constructive and are now kept busy for 3 hours a day. The parents too are happy that their children are thus fruitfully occupied.

An NGO named Karma Marg—works solely towards gathering wayward children in the age group of 6 years to 18 years who have run away from home due to various reasons also some who are separated/lost from their families and head straight for the cities to seek employment. Most often, they travel on trains and congregate at the city's main railway terminal. The team of this NGO visits the railway stations daily, make contact with the children and persuade/convince them to go and live in their institution where they are provided with free board & lodging and are sent to a school nearby to educate them thereby inculcating in them the values of life and giving them a base for becoming self sufficient when of age. Our Medical Team visits this Institution every Friday, as there is no medical facility available in the village. At present 70 children from “Karma Marg” (Path of Deeds/ Actions/Destiny), attend the ‘Hermann Gmeiner’ School, and run by the management of the SOS village for their children.

Schools Administered

We have had four schools under our administration:

1. Somerville School, Vasundhara Enclave, Delhi – 110 096
2. Somerville School, D-89, Sector – 22, Noida, Gautam Budh Nagar – Distt, UP 201 301
3. Somerville School, Block – H, Sector Alpha II, Greater Noida, Gautam Budh Nagar – Distt, UP 203 207
4. This year we had to bid farewell to our Principal, Staff & Students of the Somerville School, situated in Daryaganj on the premises of our headquarter. The growth of the school was constrained due to paucity of space therefore the Management was per forced to close down the school. The members of the staff & students of class 4 & 5 were accommodated in our other branches. This was a very sad time for us as the school in Daryaganj was our first school to be started under the name 'Somerville' in 1968.

There are many handicapped children—some due to genetic defects others due to polio attacks etc. These children are eager to study but unable to due to various factors such as, economical backward condition of parents, careless attitude of parents, inability to attend normal schools due to their being handicapped, and a careless and casual attitude of some teachers, and a callous attitude of a few other children. With a positive response over the years, those children who wish to study further beyond class 5 are helped to complete their studies by sitting for their Board Examinations for classes X & XII from Open School (Distance Learning).

The school is run in an accommodation rented by the Mission. The children are between the age group of 4–18 years. The staff consists of one in charge who is also a subject teacher. Two teachers for Math science & general subjects' one part time art/craft teacher—One trained nurse, and a general handyman who fetches the children from near-by areas in hired Cycle Rickshaws. The trained nurse also helps at times by teaching the children Hindi.

The children are taught Hindi, English, Maths, and Social Sciences. Besides these subjects, the children also learn drawing, painting, clay pottery and paper arts. The children with these talents are encouraged to enter competitions held by various NGO's and organisations. The children often win awards at these competitions.

The total number of personnel working under the Mission in all its projects is 91. Below is a table of comparison for the last four years showing the number of people whose lives have been impacted through the Mission:

The Lott Carey Baptist Mission Charitable Trust celebrated 25 years of its formation.

The occasion was celebrated with of a Thanksgiving Service followed by a community lunch. The Doctors, staff and the Heads of each of the Colonies those who have been associated with the Trust in the past were invited. Dr. David Emmanuel Goatley, Executive Secretary-Treasurer and Dr. Yvonne Y. Best, Associate for Program Development graced the occasion and we felt blessed and privileged to have them amongst us.

Please pray for us and our work here in India. We are thankful to God that he has chosen us to carry out His work in this land of diverse religions, languages and culture.

Once again, we are thankful to God that we have been partners and representatives of the Lott Carey Baptist Foreign Mission Convention/Lott Carey International in India for the past 60 years.

“Blessed is the man who stands up under trial;
For when he has stood the test,
He will receive the crown of life
That God has promised to those who love Him.”

James 1:12

May God grant us all, the right Spirit to continue the work in His name and for His glory.

With our sincere good wishes and Christian love.

2008–2009 ANNUAL REPORT
Lott Carey Baptist Mission – Nigeria
Rev. Kenneth C. Ebong, Superintendent

Once again we stand in the glory of the Almighty God to say “Thank you Lord,” for another year. We are continuously grateful for what God is doing for us, with us and through us. His name shall be ever praised.

On behalf of the Lott Carey family in Nigeria, we bring you felicitations, wishing you a wonderful annual session in Raleigh, North Carolina. Our prayer is that God visit the gathering, honouring it with a Pentecostal “Upper Room” experience for all – Amen.

INTRODUCTION

Lott Carey – Nigeria has primary targeted the rural hinterland of Southern Nigeria, where the populace is predominantly peasantry. The Baptist movement here started in 1958 in a sleepy valley village of Afaha Obio Eno of the then Enyong Division of Eastern Nigeria under the leadership of Rev. and Mrs. Charles E. Ebong. Our partnership with Lott Carey was established following a 1964 after the visitation of the then Lott Carey Baptist Foreign Mission Convention President, Dr. Hairston, and his team of 20 missionaries. Our relationship has flourished since then and over the years our primary focus has been evangelism, the planting and nurturing of churches; education through nursery, primary, vocational and secondary school and of course theological training, and health care via the establishment of a primary health care center. We also find ourselves involved in emerging relief during communal clashes, and we implement economic development projects within the reach of our services.

OUR WORK

The general motto of “Lott Carey” is “Building a Better World through Christian Missions.” Hence we have pursued primarily the transformation of lives. This includes personal, spiritual and communal. With this mindset engrafted in our hearts, we have established and nurtured over eighty churches raised over 80 ministers, a primary health care center and five educational institutions two of which are nursery/primary schools and the other three secondary/vocational and commercial schools through the years. Our geographic span has covered over four states Akwa Ibom, Cross Rivers, Rivers and Imo States.

THE IMPORTANCE AND IMPACT OF OUR WORK

Upholding our belief that all people have a right to discover their potentials and that they should be given opportunity to maximize these potentials to the glory of God, Lott Carey – Nigeria has decided to purposefully intensify her efforts in the rural areas of Southern Nigeria. These areas have some cultural and traditional beliefs intrinsically woven into the fabric of the societal norms which renders them practically impenetrable by any “foreign school of thought” concerning their lives in general, but also religion in particular. As a result, even in this day and time, witchcraft, necrolatry, necromancy, divination, the worship of territorial deities, and even syncretism are still being practiced. These practices use ignorance, illiteracy, intimidation and manipulation to keep people in “check” so as to perpetuate itself. Unfortunately, some of these beliefs and practices have rendered the people oblivious to the unlimited possibilities and purposes of god concerning their lives as children of God.

Because of these issues, it is important that we provide an avenue for a holistic transformation with emancipation from these negative and suppressive traditional ideologies. Despite the fact that many ministries are shying away from these rural areas due to the harsh conditions and the peculiar challenges of sustainability and “profitability,” Lott Carey – Nigeria has resolved to stay faithful to its calling to Rural Ministry. Three of our schools provide the only source of educational advancement for their host communities. Closing them down would be devastating. In addition to this, our secondary schools are recognized centers for a couple of nationally sponsored examinations which span over a period of four months annually (i.e. April – July). Each of these examinations has between 200 to 400 candidates most of whom seek accommodation in the communities. This in itself creates a serious economic impact in these communities. Additionally, over the years Lott Carey – Nigeria has been able to assist hundreds of students to accomplish both their academic and economic pursuits via its scholarship and economic welfare schemes. Many of those beneficiaries are outstanding citizens who are contributing to the development of this country today.

LAUDABLE ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Despite the economic down-turn which is adversely affecting the rural areas severely, this year has been a year where we have experienced the most participation and commitment of our members. Members have contributed voluntarily and sacrificially to project of the mission for the first time. Individuals have made unprecedented financial pledges towards the building of the Uyo church building. Most of the pledges have been honoured. This building is being built on a piece of land acquired over five years ago and is located in our state capital. The people are so happy and proud to finally have a place of worship in Uyo.

Second, we have finally succeeded in getting members of our churches to assist in the welfare of our ministers. This year they have been responsible for raising 50% of the funds needed for their ministerial staff. We have never been able to accomplish this before, but the people are now seeing the need to respond to this Biblical injunction and we are highly pleased and expected.

We celebrated our golden jubilee in December 2008. We were highly elated to be honoured by the presence of Rev. and Mrs. Eugene Johnson and 8 of his church members of (Mt. Olive Baptist church of Centreville, Virginia). We had a wonderful time. Their presence blessed us mightily, and we believe they were impacted inspirationally. They participated fully in all the celebration sessions and also had an opportunity to visit some of our mission fields. We once again want to express our appreciation for such sacrificial love to leave their other endeavours and come to Macedonia. We especially thank Rev. and Mrs. Eugene Johnson for leading members of his flock to experience what they have been extending their hands to. We say may God continue to bless you abundantly in Jesus name – Amen.

GENERAL OBSERVATION AND CHALLENGES

In general, this year has been extremely challenging in all aspects of our ministry. We are planning to reconstruct most of our administrative structures in the different areas of the mission, and this is causing a lot of anxiety especially for those who are seeking for positions. Also there has been a down turn on enrollment in our schools partially because of the economic hardship (parents unable to pay fees) and the fact that secondary school education is now free for all in public schools. Some parents now prefer to send their wards to the closest public school despite the distance. This is directly affecting our financial base for the running of the schools.

We still have a long way to go to complete the church building project in Uyo. The builders are estimating that we need at least between $60,000 and $70,000 to complete the building, so we stand appealing for help from our brothers and sisters.

We thank God for the government's efforts to finally construct some of our rural roads which results in a more comfortable drive and shorter travel time. However, the Superintendent needs a source of reliable mobility. The present over 19 year old Peugeot salon vehicle has become a "reliable source of shame and pain". It constantly breaks down, especially along the dirt and muddy roads of the hinterland where there are no mechanics. We are humbly appealing for a 4-wheel drive, off road vehicle. It is a necessity to enable the Superintendent to weekly visit the different Mission stations.

DREAMS AND ASPIRATIONS FOR OUR FUTURE

We know that we will have no choice but to continually adjust our methodologies and strategies of developing our services as the new day dawns. However, we must maintain our unapologetic commitment to the core values of Christian Missions and our belief that in Christ "Everybody is Somebody." Hence, we will continue to align our aspirations with the move of the spirit of God to transform, emancipate and liberate the total man within our reach.

Lott Carey – Nigeria has a vision of becoming self sustaining and also becoming a premier Christian mission agency who will continually seek opportunities to respond to needs and to improve and transform lives as God leads. We envision becoming a haven and oasis of hope for those who are despondent, disillusioned and or disenfranchised by the boisterous, adverse storms of life. We must continue to seek to become a point of reference, a light house and beacon for other mission focused Christian agencies to emulate and to partner with. But most importantly we will continue to lead people to Christ as their Lord and Saviour as mandated by the Great commission of Matthew 28:19–20 "Go therefore into all the world, making disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit."

2008–2009 ANNUAL REPORT
Lott Carey Baptist Mission – Kenya and Sudan
Rev. H. K. Cheruyiot, Superintendent

INTRODUCTION

The LOTT CAREY Baptist ministry was established in Kenya in 1986. Initially it started and managed a school program in Londiani in Kericho District. The school program was disbanded in 1991 because the government wanted us to acquire a 10 acre piece of land to meet the legal requirement for running a school.

The Lott Carey Ministries was then borne in 1992. We are now in our 17th year in Kenya and in our 6th year in Southern Sudan. Our headquarters is in Kipsitet in Kericho District, Rift Valley Province in the Republic of Kenya. In southern Sudan we are in Boma in the equatorial region of Southern Sudan.

FOCUS

The core activities in Kenya are evangelism, church planting, HIV/AIDS care and support, provision of medicine, and agriculture. In Southern Sudan, our core activity at the moment is church planting. We envisage doing all the activities in Southern Sudan that we are doing in Kenya.

Evangelism

Our work in Kenya now covers 7 districts, namely Nandi, Kipkelion, Kericho, Bureti, Bomet, Nakuru and South Nandi. All the local churches on these jurisdictions are in-charge of planning and managing the work of Evangelism.

Church Planting

Our Evangelism work has yielded 37 congregations with close to 3,300 adherents. There is an average of 100–130 members in each congregation. Each district has one complete church sanctuary, and that serves as the headquarters. Other members of the congregations meet in school buildings, in people's homes, or under trees. Each congregation has either a pastor or a church elder to take care of the congregation. Our objective is to have a pastor for each congregation in the future.

Training of Pastors

In the last one year, two pastors have completed their pastoral training. There are two more pastors who are undertaking their studies and are due to complete their program in two more years. We have some pastors who are doing internship courses. We thank God for enabling us to have these few trained pastors. We have realized the significance of managing the affairs of the church in an intelligent and quality manner.

Education

Ever since the inception of our work, we embraced education as part and parcel of our work in Kenya. We helped construct a school in Londiani in 1986. We also assisted in the construction of Cherera Primary School in 1990 for the local community. We do participate each week in school programs. We engage in all forms of development in the local schools, both primary and secondary in each district. We have taken up Chaplaincy in all of these schools. Our pastors and elders provide counseling and encouragements to the students.

Agriculture

As I have indicated many times before, our two acre coffee plantation in Kaborok has been a source of great inspiration to our church. Through this, we have assisted the work in Southern Sudan. We have sponsored the work in South Sudan for all the five years through the proceeds from this coffee. Many of our local leaders have also benefited from the monies generated from the coffee. We are still hoping to expand the plantation because coffee now is a priced commodity in Kenya. This will greatly assist many of our congregations in medical bills, pastor's salary and even school fees for the poor families.

We were especially blessed this year through the assistance of the Maple Springs Baptist Church, Capital Heights, Maryland and Pastor Larry W. Jordan. Their assistance of US$2,700 dollars has enabled us to purchase fertilizer and maize seeds for 58 widows as well as to buy food for 28 orphans. It was a hilarious day on February 6th when we held a field day at our church in Kipsitet for the distribution of these items. Many were touched because there has never been an occasion like this before. We turned it into a preaching moment, and we were all moved by the message by Dr. Jordan when he said, it is NOT us but He who has called us to do His will. He clearly did NOT take any credit but attributed all to the Almighty who enables us to do these things.

Medicines

We thank God once again for Dr. Jordan, the Maple Springs Baptist Church, and his team for initiating a medical project in 2003. This has assisted the rural people of our area so much. We are now using our dispensary at our headquarters in Kipsitet which they helped construct at a cost of US$20,000. The team also sent monies for the purchase of medicine. The medicine we buy also is distributed to other places where there are no government clinics.

We are grateful for the yearly visits by the team lead by Dr. Jordan. This has truly uplifted the local community both physically and spiritually. We pray for God to sustain Dr. Jordan and his team so that we can continue building this vital relationship. This visits have also enhanced our reputation as a church, that we are not only a preaching church, but we are also a doing church.

HIV/AIDS

Rev. Samuel Nixon Jr. who was until recently the director of HIV/AIDS Initiative for the Lott Carey International helped us in 2003 to start this project in Kenya. We got some initial funding from USAID, and we were able to carry on and AIDS awareness program for sometime. We undertook this project until 2006. We had hoped to continue the program, but we had to discontinue it because of lack of funding. We regret this a lot because the program was proving to be a great assistance to the many victims of HIV/AIDS that we have in the country. Already we had close to 40 widows and 37 orphans that were benefiting from the program. We had succeeded in organizing local community members for the awareness program. Indeed we managed to purchase uniforms and medicines for the infected and affected people. We request the International office in Washington to reconsider taking up this program again. We pray that they will think about strengthening this noble course. It is not an option for us to stop or discontinue because the pandemic is spreading.

THE IMPACT OF OUR WORK

It is difficult to quantify the impact which our work in Kenya and Southern Sudan has had. Mere words will not bring to fore the exact feeling of the people who have been touched. Only they can testify one by one and tell the story of the difference this ministry has made in their lives.

Some glaring examples that we see are in the following areas:

- Medication – A woman was brought to our medical facility at Kipsitet who had fainted as a result of prolonged malaria. She was given 5 injections, and in the evening she was able to walk back home on her own. She later joined our church because she said that she became well because of the way they treated her—verbally and medically.
- Agriculture – By generating some little money, we as a ministry are able to fulfill the calling of Mathew 28:18–20. We have also paid school fees and medical bills for a number of people. Some are members of the church, and some are not. This has also had an impact in the community because other people have taken a cue from us and planted coffee. They heard about the fruits we were reaping and they felt obliged to do the same. We think we have fulfilled the scripture in Matthew 5:14 – “Ye are the light of the world!”
- Education – Zablon Marusoi is now in his third year in Baraton University. The Wendell C. and Alice E. Somerville Scholarship Foundation enabled him pursue his dream of becoming a medical doctor. Without it, Zablon could not achieve his cherished dream. Thanks to Dr. Goatley and the entire Lott Carey family in the USA for accepting the challenge to support this young man to achieve his goal. The impact of our work, therefore, is being felt even on the education circles.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF OUR PARTNERSHIPS WITH LOTT CAREY

It is my heartfelt conviction that the relationship we have with Lott Carey has brought many benefits to the people in the US and Kenya. Personally, I have become a family member of many brothers and sisters in the USA. Through the annual conventions, I have made many friends who have invited me to speak in their churches in various states. Consequently, many have visited our work in Kenya either representing Lott Carey or in their own capacities. Lott Carey therefore, has become a linkage point for many to see and hear the stories about us.

Additionally, the relationships between the Africans and African-Americans have been enhanced. Brothers and sisters from the USA and the continent of Africa have come together via Lott Carey. Lott Carey has helped bridge the gap that existed for 500 years between the Africans and African-Americans.

Another significant impact of Lott Carey is seen in our local communities. Many lives have been transformed. Through the monthly financial support, we have constructed churches in remote villages, sponsored students and set up dispensaries.

THE FUTURE

Our motivation for the future is derived from Mathew 28:18–20 and Romans 12:11. Mathew 28:18–20—many churches, organizations and individuals have shifted to their comfort zones, thus ceasing to be effective because they have either forgotten or demeaned their calling. Some have become puffed up, some too dogmatic and too theoretical. We look to the future with these in mind. We have to uphold the higher calling.

Romans 12:11 – “Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit, always serving the lord,” we have to bear in mind that it is not the quantity of our work that counts but the quality. We cannot be everywhere and do everything. We have to ensure that we manage our local churches effectively. We have to be the prime example of the best run institutions. We cannot afford to be sub-standard. “Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit, always serving the lord.” We are truly excited about the future, knowing that God holds our future. We want to increase our work in Southern Sudan. Again we make a request for the head office to consider assisting the people and the work in Southern Sudan, financially and prayerfully.

SUMMARY

I wish to conclude by commending Dr. David Emmanuel Goatley and his team in the USA for their continued love and concern for our work in Kenya and Sudan. We appreciate their prayers, financial support and thoughtful encouragements we receive from time to time. We thank Dr. Goatley for the effective and frequent updates, especially the “News alerts.” Thanks a lot for inviting my wife Florence and me for the 2008 convention in Buffalo, NY. Since it is not our turn to attend the convention this year, we will pray for the success and safe arrival of attendees while we look forward to the convention for 2010.

To all we say asante sana – thank you!

2008–2009 ANNUAL REPORT
Baptist Convention of South Africa
Rev. Ngwedla Paul Msiza, General Secretary

INTRODUCTION

To President Dr. Keith A Troy, the Executive Secretary Treasurer Dr. David Emmanuel Goatley, the First Vice President Dr. Robert Murray, the Chairman of Board Dr. John M Alexander, the members of the executive board, the pastors, my sisters and brothers in the Lott Carey Family, greetings in the matchless name of our Lord and Saviour Jesus the Christ. We give honor and glory to the God our Father for giving us the grace to serve in His vineyard. It gives me joy once again to present this report which is a testimony of the mission work of the Baptist Convention of South Africa (BCSA).

The BCSA was founded in 1927 as an association of Black Baptist Churches that were under the white missionaries of the white Baptist Union. For many years the BCSA was a mission field of the Baptist Union of Southern Africa. In 1987 the BCSA took a bold step to become an autonomous body with no financial resource but with faith in the living God. In 1997 the BCSA entered into a partnership with the Lott Carey Baptist Foreign Mission Convention. This partnership helped the BCSA to develop its ministry. At the time of formulating this partnership the BCSA had lost more than 300 member churches that left to join the Baptist Union. When the partnership was formed the BCSA was at its weakest level. There were only 86 churches in the membership and about 70 pastors. Presently the BCSA has 154 congregations and 120 pastors.

Through the partnership with Lott Carey the BCSA was able to establish the following ministries:

- Theological College (seminary) to develop ministers for the churches
- Evangelism and Church planting
- HIV& AIDS Desk
- Skill Training Centre

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE BCSA MINISTRY

The mission of BCSA is relevant and important for today and for the future. First, our holistic approach to the Gospel is a key to reaching out to the people. Second, our history is a church that has gone through the suffering caused by segregation. Up until today the BCSA is the only Baptist voice in the ecumenical body (SACC) in South Africa. We are among the fewer evangelical churches in South Africa that are fully involved in socio-political matters.

The evangelism and church planting ministry of the BCSA reaches to all communities of the South African population. We especially reach out to the very poor and remote communities. In Cape Town our ministry is in the townships where poverty, violence and crime cause many challenges. We are now in the process of planting the third church in a space of three years. People in these poverty stricken areas need the gospel. Through our church planting program we are reaching out to far remote areas where there is no modern development. Every year we plant three to five new congregations in these rural villages.

The BCSA HIV&AIDS project is developing new sites of intervention all over country. There are new projects that are starting in most churches and regions. The AIDS project has received a grant of R1.5 million over a period of five years from Bread for the World in Germany. The project has been evaluated by an external consultant appointed by Bread for the World and the results are impressive, because the BCSA is making impact in the lives of those who are disadvantaged. Two of our sites in the townships were nominated as models for small projects. One project deals with a support group for women living HIV&AIDS and a feeding scheme. The other one focuses on orphans and abandoned children living with HIV&AIDS.

In 1995 the BCSA established a theological college to train ministers for the churches. So far 78 ministers have graduated from the college. From the first group of students two have continued with their studies and will soon complete the PhD degree. This is a great achievement for the BCSA and affirms the level of education that our college is offering. Most of the current students are in a Bachelor of Theology program. If one looks at the background of BCSA, one realizes that we had no except to trust in God to help us establish this institution. This progress speaks volumes. Presently the college staff is working hard to apply for full accreditation of our college with the Department of Education.

OUR VALUES

The BCSA mission is driven under specific values. The core value is the holistic approach to the Gospel. We proclaim the whole gospel to the whole person. The ministry is focused to the soul, mind and body. We work specifically in three areas of ministry, evangelism, education (skills training for economic empowerment) and care (HIV&AIDS program). The BCSA teaches and mobilize churches to reach into the community in a holistic manner. As a result one of our churches in Soweto, the Rock of Salvation Baptist Church, has partnered with the community of Soweto and the provincial government to focus on HIV education and combating crime in the township for several years.

Last year on December 6th the Rock of Salvation, in collaboration with the community of Soweto and the Provincial Government, held a summit about combating crime. The event started with a march in Soweto led by the pastors and the Premier (Governor) of Gauteng province. This showed how the BCSA has moved from a narrow to holistic approach to the gospel. Who has ever thought of seeing a Baptist Church in South Africa leading a March for social action? Previous public events were all for evangelism and nothing more. We have moved beyond counting souls to counting the total person.

THE IMPACT OF THE MINISTRY

The above story of the Rock of Salvation Baptist Church is an example of many of the exciting stories about God working among God's people. The orphanage in the township of Soshanguve also speaks of God's grace reaching out to the lovely children who a suffering as a result of HIV&AIDS. However I have decided to tell you about the small church in Durban.

This is a congregation that was planted in 2003 by a young minister who had just completed his studies at the Baptist Convention College in Soweto. The congregation was meeting in a classroom at a school outside the city centre. The congregation grew fast, and soon the classroom became small and the school authorities ordered the church to move out and find another accommodation. At the same time the young minister (Luvuyo Ntombana) decided to go the university to further his studies. Another young minister was put in charge of the congregation.

The challenge to find a place of worship became serious. The congregation had to move from one place to another every Sunday. One day the pastor discovered a small piece of land next to an informal settlement. The place was used by the local community as a dumping area. The land was covered by a heap of rubble. The pastor approached the local government with a request to use the land to build a church. The request was granted, and soon the church members started the work to clean up the area that had even become a danger to the community. The dumping was polluting the environment and making the grounds unsafe for children to play. The community members joined the church members and removed all the rubble. This settlement was known for its high level criminal activities. Now a church was build right at the entrance of the area. This brought a huge impact into the area. Besides receiving the Gospel the community has become more peaceful and the level of crime has reduced. The environment is clean and the community has a place of worship. Now the local government is now planning to bring development into the area. Both the first pastor and the pastor received support from the Lott Carey mission grant. This is one of many stories that speak of the importance of the BCSA mission in partnership with the Lott Carey.

THE UNITY AND THE COMMITMENT OF THE BCSA MINISTERS AND CHURCHES

This is one aspect of my work that makes me feel good, and I thank the Lord as I witness the BCSA growing in this area. The life of the BCSA was plagued by the weakness of a lack of strong unity and commitment to the mission work. In recent years, we have witnessed a wonderful spirit of commitment and unity. The financial support from the local church has grown from a zero to 45% of the total budget to ministry of the BCSA. The commitment of the ministers to the work and well being of the BCSA has brought stability into the life of the BCSA. This is a sign of growth. As a result of the commitment from churches and pastors we were able to host two Pastors Excellence Programs when offered that opportunity by Lott Carey.

Out of these visits by PEP the BCSA pastors have organized similar activity of taking a group of pastors to go and do mission work together in one of the regions. It makes me feel good when I see more energy and resources being directed towards missions. This speaks of a brighter future for the Convention, and we can all thank God for the support of Lott Carey. Now the BCSA is starting to expand its mission work to the neighboring countries. We have started with Namibia. We have resolved to train pastors for the Baptist Convention of Namibia because they do not have any training institute. This year we started with two students, and we hope to continue until they have a good number of trained ministers so that they can establish their own institution.

THE FUTURE

The ideal goal is to see the BCSA developing many stronger churches with well grounded community ministries. This will be our support base to further our mission. Along side this is to develop our theological college to become a seminary that can offer post-graduation studies. Good and relevant theological education will feed back into our mission. We also have a goal to build our skills training program which is now beginning to work again. My dream is to have the property we are using but still owned by Southern Baptist Convention Mission ceded over to the BCSA. Once this goal is realized our community development program is going to grow stronger. The property will be used to house the skills training program, seminary and income generating programs. This is my dream, and I trust the Lord that it will come to pass.

CONCLUSION

I want take this moment and thank Lott Carey for your support. On behalf of the Baptist Convention of South Africa I want to thank every individual member of this great Mission Convention for your prayers and your financial support. Thank you that you did not abandon us when we disappointed you and God, but you stood by us through thick and thin. Today we have others organizations who are coming alongside to support our mission because they see Lott Carey's commitment to us. Even during this time of world economic crisis Lott Carey did not withdraw the support. Many lives have been touched and changed because of our partnership. To Dr. Goatley, thank you for your support and leadership. Praise and honor be unto God our Father and our Lord Jesus Christ through the Holy Spirit. Amen.

2008–2009 ANNUAL REPORT

Meenakshi Roof over the Roofless Trust, Bangalore, India

Irene Supriya Steele, Director

“But Jesus beheld them, and said unto them, with men this is impossible; but with God all things are possible.” Matthew 19:26

Praise God from whom all blessings flow!

We offer our gratitude and praise to God for the many blessings bestowed upon us. I want to especially thank this great body of Christians for the 2008–09 mission support through your churches.

But for your Christian discipleship the convention will not exist. Through your generous gifts matching or exceeding the amount pledged to your individual Churches, you have borne witness to your vision of ministry.

In a culture of accumulation and especially in this time of global recession, your response makes visible the trust you have in God’s promise of his grace being sufficient. I assure you that these ministries and all other accomplishments in the Lott Carey convention touch people’s lives with the transforming love of Jesus Christ.

This, more than a century old convention is a legacy handed over by our foreparents to carry on the Lord’s mandate. As followers, in this most challenging turbulent period in the history of Lott Carey Foreign Missions Convention, we have a special responsibility to provide financial tools to the superintendents to carry out their responsibilities to the people they are serving. I assure you that the work we are carrying on enables us to sustain and grow the ministries, and it continues to give us the opportunity to envision how and where God is calling to new ministries in the days to come.

A bishop recently said in an eloquent sermon: “We believe you can organize the Church in a variety of ways to advance the mission and ministry. We also believe that lay people are every bit as important as the clergy. We believe that every Christian has the same vocation which is to pick up the cross and follow Christ. While we all have an identical vocation, we have different occupations. The calling to be a mother, firefighter, social worker, or a farmer, aged or young, is as sacred as the calling to be a pastor, Bishop or Pope! The rule and norm our faith are correctly summarized in the apostle's creed. We don't define faith. We receive it (or neglect it)! Once we receive it we are called in each day to state it anew in the understandable contemporary language of the people we serve."

COLLABORATIONS AND IMPACT INDICATORS

MRORT is collaborating with the Government of Karnataka to support Millennium Development Goals in Bangalore Rural District under: "Total Sanitation Campaign". MRORT has taken up the cause of Sanitation, the lack of which causes the maximum damage among the rural populace with the focus on health initiatives covering social determinants. We are contributing about 30 percent of the costs towards the construction of individual toilets for about 125 houses in KN Halli, MN Halli area.

Three new Sewing Machines were introduced for the sewing programs in Kantankunte and MN Halli.

In the project concerning the tribal villages around Bandipur forest area, MRORT is collaborating with another NGO called Scheduled Aboriginal Tribal Association® based in Gundlupet, Chamarajnar District. An important element in this association is to help the community to access entitlements due to them from the government. A major request is from the federal government to help rehabilitate the forest dwelling tribes who have for centuries lived in the forests.

The Trust also helped the Church of South India Hospital in Chikkabalapur by means of financial assistance, to conduct “free AIDS tests and Awareness campaign” for the poor during 2008.

MRORT is collaborating with Mission Hospital in Mysore, headed by Dr. Paul in conducting medical camps and providing medical facilities to the tribal populace.

STORIES OF HOPE

Bibi Fathima (Adiba)

Adiba, who comes from a minority group (Muslim) and from a very backward rural area, had the tenacity to procure a pre-university degree and majored in English. It was extremely difficult for her to secure a job as a Muslim in a Hindu majority system. She wears purdah for fear of being ostracized from her community! She came to the notice of MRORT in June, 08 and her talent as an efficient teacher was recognized, and she has worked as the teacher at the day care center for pre-school children at Golahalli.

She hails from a very poor family that is dependent on her remuneration for sustenance and for medical treatment for her ailing mother. Her siblings live far away from the family, so she has no additional source for financial support. She lives with her parents and travels by bus every day to teach at our day care center, and the job is very helpful for her in the path towards achieving her career goals. MRORT was hit by recession and the consequent cut in funds resulted in the suspension of many programs in the Doddaballapur area. As a result she is jobless today and desperately on the lookout for one. Adiba's case is strewn with hope and despondency. MRORT is trying to assist her any way possible...

Sujatha And Her Daughter

Sujatha was a beneficiary of a house sponsored by MRORT. Sujatha hails from Chikkaballapur originally but settled in Makalidurga just off KN Halli in Doddaballapur. She continues to work hard and was able to raise her only daughter and give her an education. MRORT has helped her along the way in many ways down the years. Sujatha is now a born again Christian, as a result she is bringing up her daughter (Navya) under Christian principles, who is now in the 10th Standard. The social workers of MRORT have encouraged and supported the cause of Navya's education this far. We helped the child move to a better private school from a below par school, and we provided transportation facilities for Navya and four other children. MRORT would like to sponsor Navya in continuing her education and also her boarding expenses.

An Old Lady In Chennikatte

On one occasion when the medical team prepared to leave after conducting a camp in Chennikatte, a boy came rushing to Dr. Paul to tell him that his grandmother had been sick for three days and unable to move about. The doctors transported her to the Mission Hospital in Mysore. Dr. Paul (director and surgeon at hospital) performed the surgery on her left leg, free of cost, after which MRORT undertook her medical and conveyance expenses. She remains under our care. This incident shows the great need for an old age home in the tribal villages to enhance their quality of life.

Prakash And Sudhakar

Two youngsters have been under MRORT supervision. Prakash has a complete hearing problem and was treated in Mysore and Bangalore. He has improved and begun to smile now and attends sign language classes. An MRORT success story.

Sudhakar and his younger brother Diwakar were orphaned. Their parents were victims of the AIDS and now live with their grandmother. The grandmother continues to receive assistance and the social workers of MRORT encourage the boys to further their studies. The orphaned brothers need to be encouraged to continue their studies in a hostel environment.

EMERGING PROGRAMS AND THE NEW REALITY

Rehabilitation of relocated tribal population around Bandipur forest area.

The objective of MRORT in the near future is to develop and deliver a customized package of livelihood resources and support services for life sustenance and for income generation enterprise promotion for the relocated tribal population around the Bandipur forest area. The portfolio of livelihood activities performed by this community is unique but below poverty levels, and there is the urgent need to bring about an overall increase in the household income.

Another notable initiative is agro organic farming which is being planned for Hadya in the efforts to generate income for the Trust as MRORT is feeling the pinch of economic downturn and has already cut back on services in Doddaballapur area. The new reality that MRORT is facing is the lack of sufficient funds to carry out its activities with the fallout of recession and the consequent cut in funds.

We were blessed to have eminent guests, namely, Dr. David Emmanuel Goatley, Dr. Yvonne Y. Best and Mr. Richard Khemchand, visiting our project areas.

In our list of major commitments there are three which stand out:

- The monthly payment towards the Van ($405/month)
- Payment towards the tractor which was bought in aid of the farmers in KN halli. We are committed to pay 60% ($160/month) and the farmers 40%.
- We have also collaborated with the federal government in furnishing individual toilets for 125 houses in KN Halli, MN Halli. The Trust has committed to pay 30% ($2,500) of the entire costs while the rest is paid the Government.

These above commitments have to be fulfilled, and the Meenakshi Trust board members request the individual churches to help.

Special requests:

- Wells for the sustenance of life in Tribal villages
- Sanitation and Electricity costs
- Blankets and clothes for the newly relocated tribal population
- Livestock for their livelihood
- Tuition and board for the Tribal children

I am extremely concerned at being in a dire situation after 13 years of good work and at a stage when it has become a model for some people and NGOs and recognized by central Government. But we are determined to continue in our efforts to serve as many people as we can with the collaboration of the Government, Panchayat and people. The local Panchayat in Doddaballpur area has promised to continue the children's program and the training program in their community since they feel that they have learnt and have the experience now to help themselves. It is very gratifying to note that they are not dependent on us, which is our ultimate goal, like the other three places where we worked after having achieving our target—that is having helped them to continue on their own.

In the tribal areas too we plan to introduce the same programs which have been effective during the past 15 years, with the cooperation of the local and central government, who have requested us to join them in rehabilitating the forest dwelling tribes. Having seen our work and success elsewhere they have put forth this request.

The convention, like the entire world, is going through a great economic crisis. We have been forced to slim down our programs and keep only the very essential services and staff, a task that was never expected and which is so very difficult to perform. With faith in God to carry out his mandate, and with your prayers and sacrifices, we continue to hold the fort.

2008 – 2009 ANNUAL REPORT

Trinity Evangelical Ministry, Retreat Content, St. Mary, Jamaica
Rev. Karl Johnson, General Secretary, Jamaica Baptist Union

INTRODUCTION

Trinity Evangelistic Ministries (TEM) operates from a small rural community in Jamaica known as Retreat, in the parish of St. Mary. Retreat bears the usual features of similar communities in that it lacks certain infrastructural amenities, suffers the absence of economic opportunities and is populated by persons who are often on the margins of life and society.

A brainchild of its, now deceased, visionary founder, the Rev. George Coore, TEM was intended to be a centre of empowerment, capacity building and development of God's special gift—the human resource. To this end, TEM established an early childhood institution to provide a sound foundation for children between the ages of 2–6 years and a Skills Training Centre to give at-risk young adults another chance at life. Regrettably, a decision had to be taken to close the early childhood institution due to changes in the state's operational guidelines for such entities and the attendant financial implications.

The skills training centre is operated in partnership with a Government of Jamaica (GOJ) training agency, namely HEART/NTA. Students in this programme are drawn from Retreat and other surrounding communities. A critical ministry is provided through the offering of opportunities for personal growth and development, further education and job opportunities arising from training in the areas of General Office Administration, Food and Beverage, Cosmetology and House Keeping.

VALUES

From the very inception of this Ministry, partnership, human dignity, education and training have been some of its key core values. In living out these values we have developed partnerships with the community, church, NGO'S and the government to positively impact the lives of young people.

This is with the expressed hope that benefits will accrue not only to those directly involved, but also their families, communities and indeed Jamaica.

We salute our partnership with the Lott Carey Mission Convention which has led to a number of young people being trained to improve their skills and even being assisted in finding employment through job experience placements. Many lives have been improved as a result of this programme and its underpinning values.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

The focus over the past year has been on restructuring the operations of the skills training centre in an effort to achieve greater efficiency and facilitate maximum impact. To this end, the Jamaica Baptist Union (JBU) has come alongside Lott Carey in providing necessary resources to enhance the offerings of the ministry. Five JBU members, including the author of this report, joined the TEM Board in September 2008.

There has been a measure of success with the restructuring efforts thus far through emphasis on the recruitment of additional students, increased programme offerings, staff and management changes and the provision of additional learning and teaching material and equipment.

We continue to celebrate the fact that through this programme a number of young people (53 make up the current cohort) have been so equipped that they have been able to secure employment both locally and internationally. This is especially rewarding in a climate where unemployment is high.

The ministry has also facilitated greater linkages with the community and we give God thanks for this.

STRATEGIC OUTLOOK

The strategic outlook is to develop a viable, self-sustaining entity within the next five (5) years through:

- Developing a well managed training institution offering demand-driven, needs-based and results-oriented, high quality training programmes that are sustainable and financially viable.
- Ensuring the continued integration of TEM within the community through its outreach ministries, products and services thereby creating, in a very real way, a mission centre.
- Providing entrepreneurial facilitation through the development of a culture of entrepreneurship among learners.

In order to achieve the above we hope to pursue:

- Programme Expansion – Agriculture / Green house Technology
This is an area of great scope and potential that can bring great benefits to the community and this is especially so in light of its rural location and its dependence on agriculture.
- Landscaping – The centre is well placed in close proximity to one of Jamaica's tourist destination. The need for landscaping services has been identified and the centre has adequate space to provide this area of training.
- Income Generation – There is need for the centre to become more self-sufficient in an effort to expand the reach of its ministry to the community. Every avenue is being explored to realize this.
- Infrastructure Development – The existing building stock needs serious attention. It is hoped that funding can be sourced to make this a reality.

CONCLUSION

We continue to be grateful to God for the partnership between Lott Carey and the Trinity Evangelistic Ministries. We believe that even in these challenging economic times we can continue to accomplish great things as together we partner in the Mission of Jesus Christ.

2008–2009 ANNUAL REPORT
Baptist Theological Seminary of Zimbabwe
Rev. Henry Mugabe, Ph.D., Principal

INTRODUCTION

The Baptist Theological Seminary continues with its ministry of providing Christ-centered, contextually relevant, theological education for our Southern African context. We endeavor to expose our students to issues which are directly related to their life situation like poverty, violence, corruption, HIV and AIDS.

We support churches by providing theological education which meets the needs of the different churches from which students come. Our pedagogy is guided by the notion that education is an emancipation tool for oppressed and marginalised persons. It is theological education that takes place against the background of pain, suffering, poverty and disease.

Zimbabwe went through the challenge of having the highest inflation in the world to the point that the Zimbabwean Dollar died a natural death. We no longer use the Zim dollar anymore. The country has resorted to a multi-currency situation in which the US dollar and South African Rand are the most commonly used currencies. Goods are now available in shops but they remain too expensive for the average person because the average salary in Zimbabwe is US$100. However we thank God that things are a bit stable.

OUR IMPACT

Our students come from a wide range of theological traditions, and they are attracted to our school because of our good reputation among the various denominations in the country. We have become the official theological school which trains Episcopalian priests for two dioceses in Zimbabwe. We have students from mainline churches and from Pentecostal and African Independent church backgrounds.

I would like to give thanks to God that our Seminary continued to function in an environment where all government institutions could not function because of the economic situation. Most public schools and State Universities failed to operate. Lott Carey, as usual, came alongside us and enabled us to provide theological education to the poorest of the poor. We went through a challenging time when our water pump broke down during the cholera epidemic. We only had one cholera case, and it turned out that the student had contracted the disease in their rural home and not at the Seminary. God indeed took care of us.

One of our Anglican students preached at an ordination ceremony and word came to us that the response from the congregation was that the preaching of the Anglican students who graduate from our Seminary is much better than students from other institutions. We felt good that our ministry is not confined to our Baptist Churches but other children of God are benefiting as well. Also our students have done some volunteering at Midlands children's home where they ministered to orphans.

OUR DREAM FOR THE FUTURE

Our dream is to make the Seminary more and more holistic in its approach to theological education in particular and other ministries in general. We have been approved by the Ministry of Higher Education to offer some vocational courses. Our economies of poverty require our students to have other skills to make them survive because most of our churches can not afford a full time pastor.

Because AIDS continues to cause havoc in our country in all aspects of our lives, we endeavour to ensure that the HIV pandemic continues to occupy center stage in our Seminary programmes.

THANKSGIVING

In conclusion, we thank God for Dr. David Emmanuel Goatley's leadership during this challenging period. May he continue to experience God's grace as he ministers to all of us during this time of recession. We thank God for all the Lott Carey family's support. Even the recession will not separate us from the love of God in Jesus Christ.

2008–2009 ANNUAL REPORT
Teen Challenge South Africa – Western Cape
“Homes of Hope”
Rev. Jacobus Nomdoe, Executive Director

INTRODUCTION

Teen Challenge SA – Western Cape is a non-profit and non-governmental organization established to rescue children, youth and young adults from the traps of drug abuse, gangs, prostitution, and human trafficking. Since our inception in 1998, we have been actively engaged in prevention, early intervention and intervention programs for schools, churches, government departments, etc.

Our 14-month residential program offers hope and help, freedom and success to both men and women. Some come to us for help who cannot even afford the very basic necessities such as toiletries, stationery, underwear, etc.

Our partnership with Lott Carey is significant for the execution of our mandate to rescue children, youth and young adults from the devastating traps of drug abuse, gangs, prostitution etc. The “Home of Hope” is home to many who do not know what it is to be treated like a person of value who is created by God for a purpose. It is here where many found themselves and where they found Jesus Christ. Cape Town and South Africa is regarded as the capitol city as it relates to murder, gangs, etc. We make an impact through effective creative and out of the box prevention and intervention strategies.

VALUES

Our #1 value is people. We value people and relationships more than buildings, vehicles, assets. etc. We are committed to our partners who join us to bring hope to our cities by being accountable for resources entrusted to us. We believe that we can go a long way with open relationships of trust. We are thankful that our partnership with Lott Carey has facilitated a new and meaningful relationship with the Enon Tabernacle Baptist Church in Philadelphia. The Enon Tabernacle Baptist Church and Pastor Alyn E. Waller have made several personal visits and have committed to generously invest in the expansion of this ministry.

We manifest our values in our ministry through the transformed lives of our students and graduates. We have several who are impacting the lives of other through their testimonies. Many who comes to us today is not because of our marketing strategies but rather through the “Jewels of Grace” who lives in communities.

From amongst those who graduated our program we have:

- 2 Pastors (They’ve completed Bible school after their program)
- 1 Evangelist
- 1 Personal Assistant in a Corporate environment for 2 Directors
- 1 Psychologist (Final Year of University)
- 1 University student – Undergraduate in Social Work
- 3 Married persons, 2 with good employment
- 2 Entrepreneurs

AN EXAMPLE OF GOOD WORK

So many good things happened within the ministry over the last year. However, I’d like to highlight the impact we have made in several schools in Cape Town with our Prev0ention program, “BE THE TIGER.” This program has seen many children made healthy choices and have steered clear from these destructive lifestyles.

There are two significant testimonies that stood out for me this past year. First, a school principal informed us after we had completed a program in his school that, at a regular parent meeting, several parents inquired from him what is “BE WISE, BE STRONG, BE FREE, BE A TIGER!!!” Many children were playing in the streets or when just walking would shout these words in the streets or in the homes. So he explained to parents that the children were learning this phrase in our prevention program. Praise God!

Second, during our presentation and interaction with the children at another Primary School, an 11 year old boy and a 12 year old boy went to the principal to inform him about their drug selling activities on campus. After the program, the police came and did an investigation and uncovered a ring of drug pushers on the primary school campus. With the 2010 world cup, we have several challenges to help our children not to fall victim to gangs, prostitution and drug abuse. We have experienced the tremendous blessing this program is, and we believe that God will help us to help many thousands of children in South Africa and elsewhere.

WHAT IS MAKING US FEEL GOOD

We feel good when a new person joins the program and their parents or relatives visit after a few weeks, they often cannot believe the change in their loved ones life. The tears of joy would flow freely. Many people tell me of the several rehabilitation programs they have been to but could not find success. Then at the Home of Hope, a place with no luxury, sometimes showering in cold water, or with only maize meal porridge for several days and sometimes only bread and water for lunch, they are totally transformed.

A few weeks ago at our parent meeting, I noticed how a Muslim family was, with tears, expressing their gratitude for their daughter's progress. They had lost their daughter to substance abuse. They had lost hope. Now, however, their daughter was a changed person. She had found a relationship, now having a relationship with Jesus and a deep desire to serve Him.

We also feel good about the Deputy Minister of Social Development having publicly announced that Teen Challenge is today the best service provider for substance abusers, gangs, prostitution etc in this country, and that the "Tiger" prevention program is regarded as the most innovative program she has seen during her term of office. We also feel good today to know that our ministry has become a lighthouse in an impoverished community. Many come to us for help, and we are a blessing to others with the little we have. We were able to infiltrate the largest drug supplier in this city and minister to both husband and wife. Today we have established an outreach ministry in their night club where we minister to several hundreds of young people every week. There are testimonies of how several girls were assisted to let go of suicidal attempts. Some of the girls who had desired to go to the streets to do prostitution are now members of our church.

DREAMS FOR THE FUTURE

My greatest dream is to expand this ministry to other parts of the country and to roll out the Prevention program as well. In establishing and developing the program, we're praying and trusting God to entrust us with a farm which will be a "VILLAGE OF HOPE". This will incorporate several disciplines, and we envision developing the capacity to become self sustaining. We desire to become a ministry that will be able to help sister organizations and others. We also dream of establishing and bringing to completion a skills development and training center that will empower our students and unemployed youth with a skill or trade to become economically self-sufficient and even to become entrepreneurs. This will help to eradicate poverty and to deal with the high levels of unemployment.

I believe, by the grace and favor of God and with meaningful partnerships, we can become a model program for the continent and elsewhere. We can be an example of faithfulness.

CONCLUSION

In closing, we pray the continued favor of God upon all our friends and family in Lott Carey. We trust in God and believe that He will bless you and continue to use you to be a blessing to the Nations. Your valued support has enabled us and those we serve to become better persons. We are a people of courage and destiny. Your seed has fallen on fertile ground and will yield a tremendous harvest. Thank you.

2008–2009 ANNUAL REPORT
AFRICAN AIDS INITIATIVE INTERNATIONAL INC.
Addis Ababa, Ethiopia
Eleni Gebreamlak, Director

INTRODUCTION

African AIDS Initiative International (AII) is a non-profit organization registered both in the USA and in Ethiopia. It is an affiliate of W.E.B Dubois Institute for African and African American Research at Harvard University, Cambridge, USA. AII envisions an HIV/AIDS free, healthy and productive Africans. The mission of the organization is to prevent the incidence of HIV infection and mitigate impact of AIDS among Africans. The goal of the organization is developing and promoting a culture of excellence for HIV/AIDS prevention, service delivery, networking and research. To achieve its goal, the organization aims at providing HIV/AIDS education for positive behavior change, creating access to Voluntary HIV/AIDS Counseling and Testing (VCT) services, providing care, support and treatment for people living with HIV/AIDS (PLWHA), spearheading and facilitating collaborative partnerships among the national and international actors working on HIV/AIDS in Africa.

With the support of the Government of Ethiopia and indispensable financial and technical assistance of all partners, we are able to provide Voluntary Counseling and Testing (VCT) services; and ensure care and support services to those infected and impacted by the disease. Since the opening of its Regional Office for Africa in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia in February 2002, it has been implementing anti-AIDS programs in various project sites. Addis Ababa University is one of the prominent sites. In 2004 AII, in its affiliation with Harvard University, concluded long term agreement with Addis Ababa University to coordinate and facilitate programs aimed at curbing the spread of HIV/AIDS among the communities of (higher education) the University. The overall aim of this collaborative partnership is to encourage HIV/AIDS prevention, Voluntary Counseling and Testing, Care and Treatment, Information, Research, and Training the university community.

AII VALUES PARTNERSHIP, PARTICIPATION AND MUTUAL LEARNING

Partnership

The enormity of the problem in the target area and the desire to serve the target population are major facts which encouraged AII to establish partnership and collaboration with different Universities and organizations. A case in point is the partnership with the Lott Carey International (LCI). The partnership with LCI has been critical for the successful accomplishment of its objectives. The Project has been focusing on increasing VCT (especially off-campus) services to the communities of Addis Ababa University (AAU) and its surrounding area, particularly students, university workers, sex workers (SWs), and People Living with HIV/AIDS (PLWHAs)

Participation

The fight against HIV/AIDS is up the hill. AII is working in partnership with grassroots actors in all intervention areas. Although the number of people living with HIV/AIDS is increasing AII is doing its share in helping control the HIV/AIDS epidemic by working with the government, Addis Ababa University and our International partners such as Lott Carey.

Working in partnership has been one of the core activities of our organization. Consequently, while students' Anti AIDS clubs, Workers' and Female Students' Clubs are the major grassroots organization in Addis Ababa University; it has also stepped up its capacity of educational outreach efforts to Commercial Sex Workers anti AIDS clubs in the sub cities of Kirkos, Lideta and Arada, as well as Yeka owing to the help rendered from Lott Carey International.

Mutual learning

We trust that working with partner organizations not only helps to strengthen and sustain the capabilities of the HIV prevention but also partner institutions can benefit from each others experience. Thus, we gained important scientific information, applicable to fighting AIDS across our areas of interventions while our partners benefited from AII's experience in addressing HIV/AIDS in high-risk communities (youth at higher learning institutions and women selling sex for a living); we believe.

PLANNED ACTIVITIES

During the 2008/09 implementation period AAI is aiming at:

- Increasing access to basic HIV/AIDS education to the target population.
- Reducing the uncontrolled spread of HIV/AIDS and other reproductive health problems
- Increasing access to VCT services particularly in an off-campus setting
- Increasing access to post-test services (palliative care to PLWHAs) and STI treatment services for poor women earning their livelihoods from sex-work through referral linkages;

MAJOR ACHIEVEMENTS

As long as there is no cure for HIV/AIDS, prevention of HIV/AIDS is the best and most cost-effective way of fighting the pandemic. However, it is understood that existing prevention efforts reach a very small proportion of those at risk. Thus, one of the most significant challenges that AAI faces to day is how to scale up prevention efforts so as to reach the maximum number of individuals at risk through its existing operational sites.

In order to achieve this goal, AAI's prevention effort follows what is known as the ABC approach. (i.e. Abstain, Be Faithful and as appropriate, use Condoms correctly and consistently).

During the implementation period, the Project has taken a multi-pronged approach to its goal of prevention via behavioral change. The project helped to expand the range of AAI's educational and awareness-raising activities to influence social norms regarding risky behaviors, to address the social and economic barriers of effective prevention and to provide comprehensive programs for individuals who engage in high-risk behavior. This includes connecting them to HIV counseling and testing services, getting them treatment for sexually transmitted diseases and providing them condoms, when necessary. The organization has mobilized and joined with local actors such as peer education groups, school and workplace-based programs. It has targeted multiple audiences via a range of media outlets, an effort spearheaded by the student Anti-AIDS Clubs.

The activities undertaken throughout the lifetime of the project within the Addis Ababa University, as well as among sex workers, to prevent the spread of the disease are detailed as follows.

HV/AIDS PREVENTION EDUCATION ACTIVITIES

AAll firmly believes that people are at increased high risk for infection if they are economically under privileged and when they are less informed, deprived to equal access for material resources and education because of their gender, age etc. other than the known factors such as multiple partners, blood transfusion and un protected sex.

HIV/AIDS is the number one threat to Ethiopia's youth. The median age of infection for women in Africa is the early twenties, implying that a substantial majority of girls that are HIV positive were infected before they were turned 20. Only by focusing on young people will it be possible to stop the progress of the HIV/AIDS pandemic. Participants agreed that there is much that can be done with young women, by directly providing access to sex education, life skills, condoms, etc. or indirectly by addressing the social environment in which girls and young women live; increasing girl's educational and socio-economic opportunities and thereby increasing their power by decreasing their reliance on selling or trading sex.

ORIENTATION FOR THE 2008/09 FRESHMEN STUDENTS OF ADDIS ABABA UNIVERSITY

Students of Addis Ababa University come from all corners of the country. Due to their maturity level their desire for new experiences and the peer pressure plus the absence of immediate parental control, the change of environment, and the need to "assimilate," exposes them to the possibility of committing unsafe behavioral patterns that give rise to HIV infections. With this understanding, AAll had promoted the available HIV/AIDS/RH related services to the newly enrolled students during the 2008/09 freshmen students Orientation Program organized by the University. The orientation program was helpful to convey the necessary information to the students. Information such as eminence education on HIV/AIDS, VCT services, condoms and cares services.

OUTREACH ACTIVITIES OF TRAINED SEX-WORKERS

Some particular social groups are highly vulnerable to the risk of HIV/AIDS and, consequently, have higher infection rates than others. The unequal power balance between male and female that favors men determines the unequal power balance in sexual relations. It is the man who decides as to when, where and how sexual interaction should be exercised. Such a relationship renders the female society vulnerable to unwanted sex and thereby to HIV/AIDS infection.

The tragic image of such relationships becomes even uglier for the lives of sex-workers who regularly sell their sex services to male customers who usually directly or indirectly force them to exercise unsafe sex. Pressured by socio-economic problems, they are always exposed to HIV and STD infections. AAI realizes that the sector is one of the most important targets of any anti-AIDS program where, if appropriately implemented could make a difference. It has also recognized the undeniable truth that the empowerment of women, youth and other vulnerable groups will not only help to protect them but also to bring substantial change in rate of new infection. To this end, AAI has been working and will continue to work with those compatriots. Currently there are a total 187 trained sex-workers conducting community outreach activities. During the reported period, we were striving to reach out to 540 people. We were pushing for HIV prevention education that promotes other behavioral change beyond abstinence and or being faithful because of the outreach work of trained volunteers from high-risk groups. As a result, the actual achievement was a total of 982 people.

VOLUNTARY COUNSELING AND TESTING SERVICES

AAI is supporting the expansion of access to HIV/AIDS prevention, treatment and care in the intervention areas. But, one of the key limiting factors is people's lack of knowledge of their HIV status. A person unaware of his or her HIV-positive status will not begin life-saving treatment or care that can prevent opportunistic infections, and may not take all possible prevention steps to avoid spreading infection. Voluntary Counseling and Testing are key gateways to prevention, care and treatment. Large numbers of people must be tested and know their status to effectively prevent rapidly spreading the HIV virus. Yet the number of people receiving VCT services today remains far short of what is needed, and the consequences of this shortfall affect all other efforts to combat HIV/AIDS.

A key barrier to counseling and testing is lack of routine availability in health care settings. Other obstacles include the distance of patients from facilities, and inadequate access to providers, rapid tests, and laboratory services. Sustainable programs must overcome these obstacles while ensuring that services provided are of high quality. Compounding all these challenges the presence of high degree of stigma and discrimination against those thought to be HIV-positive. AAI is moving with the urgency and innovation that are commensurate with this extraordinary challenge. Provision of quality and users friendly VCT Service is at the center of AAI's endeavors to curb the spread of HIV/AIDS pandemic. It has been promoting the idea that each person knows his or her HIV status and has access to AIDS information, counseling and related services, in an environment that is safe for confidential testing and voluntary disclosure of HIV status. A growing number of the target population is benefiting from VCT Services. AAI is working with partners to bring these to scale as quickly as possible, using locally-appropriate approaches that can be sustained in the future.

AAI has been managing three VCT Centers. The first one is an integrated VCT Center, which is integrated with the Clinic of the Science Faculty the Addis Ababa University and the second one is Freestanding VCT Centers at the Main Campus of AAU and the third one is Off-Campus VCT Center located at Arada Sub City of the Addis Ababa City Administration; The centers are equipped with the necessary manpower, laboratory and medical supplies. With full time professional staff, the VCT centers have been providing quality and standardized pre-test counseling, voluntary blood testing and post test counseling services in line with the national VCT protocol and procedures. The services are given free of charge to the target population.

Off-campus VCT Center

One of the achievements of this reporting period is the opening of the Off-Campus VCT Center. Although there are two in-campus VCT Centers in AAU, it has been found that most of the communities of the university particularly students with high-risk perception were not comfortable to make use of the in-campus services due to fear of possible stigma and discrimination. Members of the university community have been continually demanding the AAI to create alternative access to VCT services in an off-campus setting. It was this incessant request that encouraged AAI to establish an Off-Campus VCT Center with catchments area of the Addis Ababa University.

The LCI's support has contributed a lot in reaching the hard to reach and addressing the problems the underserved section of the City's population.

The support of Lott Carey International (LCI) has been particularly important and critical to our VCT services. The Off Campus VCT Center is one of our busiest centers with high number of VCT turnouts and daily caseloads. Although the Off campus VCT center was established to offer alternative opportunity for AAU community members who are not comfortable to use the in-campus VCT services and commercial sex workers, the benefit of this Center was not limited to the above mentioned groups. The surrounding communities, including members of Federal Police have been benefiting from the services. The Center was also crucial for the communities of Arada sub-city engaged in informal activities such as sex-workers, street vendors and homeless persons. Informal activities are rampant in Addis Ababa, employing considerable proportion of the cities population. These people, due partly to lack of information and some formal requirements, don't easily access VCT and other health services from public programs.

As indicated in the table below, a total of 1,866 persons have been counseled. Of the total persons getting pretest counseling 1,844 were able to know their HIV status through testing. This is great opportunity for those who got the services and encouraging achievement for our program.

Further to the normal VCT service delivery, AAIL is conducting a monthly VCT Campaign during the weekends. The Off Campus center is located in an area where there is a Sunday market. In addition to the target population which the Center is opened for, it is serving the community communing to the Sunday markets. All these opportunities and achievements were possible through LCI's financial support. The total cost of the Building rent hosting the Center is about USD 14,610. Of the total cost about 82% (US$11,960) was from LCI and the remaining 18% (US$2,650) was from AAIL.

Number of persons counseled and tested at the Off-campus VCT Center for the period between January 2008 and April 2009:

OF CLIENTS COUNSELED			# OF CLIENTS COUNSELED & TESTED			TEST RESULT
						Sero positive			Sero Negative
M	F	T	M	F	T	M	F	T	M	F	T
1193	673	1866	1180	664	1844	48	45	93	1132	619	1751

MAJOR CHALLENGES AND CONSTRAINTS

AII faced several challenges in implementing its programs. The major challenge was budget/resource gaps. This situation greatly affected the level of implementation of the activities that had been planned for that period. Some of the major gaps are summarized as follows.

The first challenge was mismatched between the budget earmarked for the building rent and current market price. The intention was to establish the off-campus VCT center that would allow AII to offer its services in a quality and comfortable manner. That demands a spacious building. However, house rent in the part of the city where AII is operating is skyrocketing due to price speculation of owners and partly because of the relative importance of the area as compared to other parts of the city. Although our price assessment conducted during the preparation of the project document did indicate the possibility of securing rented houses in line with our estimates, the reality was different. The total amount of fund secured from LCI was about USD$12,000. The actual cost of the building (rent) was US$14,610. Since AII is absolutely dependent on financial support of partner organization and donors, filling the gap at the required time was a challenge irrespective of the seemingly small amount.

In addition to the above mentioned major challenges, the Organization had also faced the following problems:

- AII was trying to integrate other Reproductive Health (RH) services with the VCT Centers. However, the demand for reproductive health services such as provision of emergency and other contraceptive pills, pregnancy testing, and counseling was beyond the capacity.
- Increasing demand for posttest services: Promoting VCT without sufficient posttest services would not have impact. The Project was facilitating only some palliative care services, such as post test counseling, psycho-social support, and CD4 test to PLWHAs. Those eligible are getting ART from public programs in their respective localities. However, the drugs are only effective if the accompanied by adequate nutrition. Due to lack finance, the Organization was not able to provide nutritional services. This has been discouraging people to use the available VCT services.

- Budgetary constraints of the Anti-AIDS Clubs. Several funding requests were coming in from project implementation partners such as the Students', Workers' and Commercial Sex Workers' Anti-AIDS Clubs, among other external collaborators. Many of these requests aimed at conducting important work in fighting the pandemic, but it was not possible to provide support due to budgetary constraints.

Other challenges were related to personnel and logistic of the Organization. Due shortage of funds the Organization was not in a position to organize itself with the required manpower.

VI. CONCLUSION AND THE WAY FORWARD

The overall goal of AAI is to prevent the incidence of new HIV infection and mitigating psychosocial and economic impacts of AIDS among the target population. From the beginning our aim is to help the vulnerable and high-risk groups such as youth in higher learning institutions, underserved, disadvantaged and hard to reach sections of the Ethiopian society such as sex-workers and other urban poor. Within the course of the reporting period, AAI was operating in Addis Ababa University and at four sub-cities of Addis Ababa In spite of mounting budgetary and other challenges, the Organization has made significant steps in terms of implementing programs and undertaking activities leading to achievement of its core goals.

In the endeavors to realize its objectives in general and to accomplish its commitment for the University in particular, AAI has been carrying out various anti HIV/AIDS activities. The AAU houses a large concentration of intellectually gifted and finely skilled young people many of whom might be significant figures in Ethiopian society in the future. Unfortunately; and in spite of the aforementioned background, the youth at the AAU are among the vulnerable group of people to HIV infection. Since the Ethiopian primary and secondary school curricula lack health/sex education the students join higher learning institutions unprepared and without developing the necessary life-skills. Due to their level of maturity and desire for new experiences, peer pressure, the absence of immediate parental control, the change of environment, and the need to 'fit in,' students are exposed to unwanted and unsafe behavioral patterns that give rise to HIV infection.

Since the inception of its intervention in Addis Ababa University, AAI has been striving to equip students with such skills as interpersonal relationships, self awareness and self esteem, problem solving, effective communication, decision-making, negotiating sex or NOT having sex, resisting peer pressure, critical thinking, formation of friendships, and empathy. These skills help beneficiaries make healthy—and indeed—life-saving decisions.

The intervention has impacted and empowered the target population to bring about significant behavioral change—including informed decision to abstain sex before marriage and delayed sexual debut among young university students, increasing trend of knowing sero-status, partner reduction and increased condom use among the target population.

Prevention work that decreases the number of new infections has to be the foundation of the global fight against AIDS, but we cannot forget those already infected with HIV and those deeply affected by the loss of family members to AIDS. Furthermore, in a society where a high rate of HIV/AIDS infection prevails, preventive efforts, however comprehensive, are not sufficient to control the pandemic and mitigate its impacts. Upholding this commitment, AAI had been striving to implement its longstanding program of support for PLWHAs.

HIV/AIDS will be a tragic fact of life for many years to come. The fight against it will succeed today, and be sustainable tomorrow, only if the local population takes ownership. Hence, working in partnership with and building the capacity of grassroots/local actors is vitally important to bring high quality programs to scale today and to sustain the response in the future. In these regard AAI is working with female and male students, University workers, anti AIDS clubs we have been striving to strengthen the capacity, systems and structure of anti-AIDS clubs in managing and mitigating the causes, challenges and consequences of HIV/AIDS. These grassroots actors can play an important role in shaping attitudes and practices of future decision-makers, and, in so doing, further prevent the spread of HIV and AIDS. But success will require unprecedented willingness on the part of all actors to exercise their potential, to embrace new ways of working with each other, and to sustain the response over the long term.

In conclusion, AAII mindfully acknowledges the fact that AIDS is exacerbating every other challenge to human development. It believed that efforts to address the epidemic must simultaneously focus on preventing new infections, caring for those already infected and mitigating the economic, institutional and psycho-social impacts of AIDS. AAII foresees with increasing certainty what disaster awaits if the response to AIDS continues to be inadequate. Strengthening the response will save millions of lives and enormous financial and other resources. Continually learning from its extensive experiences, AAII understands what needs to be done to stop AIDS, what it needs is the resource and the will and support of partners to get it done. AAII dreams to further strengthen the work that it has been doing, reach more of the vulnerable, the destitute, the hard to reach and provide them life saving services.

2008–2009 ANNUAL REPORT
Baptist Convention of Mozambique
Rev. Manuel Quembo, General Secretary
Mozambique

I work as General Secretary and my ministry is directed to help Baptist churches in Mozambique cooperate to reach out the lost, disciple and train Christians and help needy people whenever possible, establish partnerships with other Baptist bodies around the world, to join efforts to accomplish Gods purposes in Mozambique. My geographical focus of ministry is all the country of Mozambique, made up of 11 provinces and 128 districts. I began this work in 2001 and the partnership with Lott Carey started in 2003. My work is important because through it, I can serve the Lord and His people, by sharing my given talents to honor God.

Development of local leadership of the churches and self supported churches, are some of the values of my ministry. We believe that God has gifted people in every church, to make it grow and pursue mission purposes. Support is needed but, not on permanent basis. Churches are encouraged to work hard and grow with the help of the Lord.

The impact of my ministry can be seen by Tiorino family that had finished their training at Gweru Baptist Seminary and they are now back to Mozambique and engaged in ministry in their home land. Also the results of Livestock project that now can be seen in the District of Buzi, where two families have each four (4) heads of cattle and three (3) heads of cattle respectively.

It is my vision that in the near future the ministry I am currently doing could result in our convention having its own training institution, a Baptist Seminary in Mozambique. I pray by God grace that, He will help that dream come true, so that our pastors will not have to go to South Africa, Brazil or Portugal for theological training, as it is the reality now, they will be able to be trained in their context. Also it is my dream that CBM's relationship with Lott Carey will grow each year, pastors from Lott Carey convention will be able to visit Mozambique and preach in our churches, share visions and help each other in various ways, pray for one another.

2008–2009 ANNUAL REPORT
Fountain Project Final Report
Living in Full Expectancy (L.I.F.E.)
Project Vocational Rehabilitation and Support
Employment Readiness Program
Lafayette, Louisiana
Bishop Diana Taara Williams, Executive Director

Lafayette Restoration Center (LRC) a Louisiana based non profit operating under North Star Resources Inc a 501©3 dba Lafayette Restoration Center proposed to the Fountain Project administered by the Lott Carey Baptist Foreign Mission Convention for funding to support survivors of Hurricanes Katrina/Rita with Employment Readiness under the project entitled Living in Full Expectancy (L.I.F.E.). Employment Readiness skills development was conducted for over 100 applicants seeking permanent employment in the Lafayette Community.

STATEMENT OF NEED

LRC proposed to identify 100 participants who met the definition of underemployed or unemployed according to the United States Department of Labor Bureau. Those individuals were screened by an employment coach and social worker for acceptance in the employment readiness project. The Lafayette Community has over 2000 entry level positions that are unable to be filled due to the following circumstances:

- Individuals are unable to complete the application process
- Applicants are not in appropriate attire for interviews
- Inability to communicate during the interview process
- Unprepared for interview/lack of resume
- Lack of access to computer to complete online applications
- Lack of cultural adaptation concerning differences between New Orleans to Lafayette
- Lack of labor ready presentation (arriving in house shoes; ungroomed hair; bringing children to interview; arriving late to interview)
- Failure to pass substance abuse screening test

Data used by the Lafayette Department of unemployment and workforce development noted that the Lafayette Community has an unemployment rate for the community at large at less than 3%. However, those directly impacted by hurricanes Katrina/Rita have a 61% unemployment rate. Data provided by the Louisiana Family Recovery Grant and FEMA noted that many people relocated to Southwest Louisiana after Katrina had limited skills for the diverse labor market. Many employers are willing to hire Katrina/Rita impacted citizens, but the aforementioned challenges prevent employment opportunities from taking place.

The LRC has served over 25,000 constituents impacted by Hurricanes Katrina/Rita over the past 24 months via food bank, mental health, pastoral care, youth summer camps, youth spring and Christmas break camps and specialize vocational rehabilitation and support programs. We have placed over 40 people in to employment opportunities with Construction New Technology Training with Johnson Brothers Construction Company. We assisted in the employment readiness training of 20 offshore workers for the LEDA board and have 15 males and females in the Certified Nursing Assistant training program of the Louisiana Technical College. We have assisted two husband and wife teams with continuing their education and business development dreams. We assisted one family completing college at the University of Louisiana with books, transportation and child care under the Fountain Project. Another husband wife team is managing the local Food Net facility. The Fountain Project has also birthed a janitorial service with one of its graduates now willing to hire others from the employment readiness program.

PROGRAM IMPACT

The project has placed:

- 50 clients with FurnitureTek
- 41 clients with Joe Ellis Construction
- 28 with NorComm
- 35 with road construction crews
- 22 with Parish Government
- 49 clients placed in part time retail and janitorial positions

Seventy two clients were not able to pass the drug screening and psychological assessment for full or part time employment and were referred to Tyler Mental Health, Work Force development or Goodwill Industries for disable employment.

EMPLOYMENT SUSTAINABILITY

Employees placed on jobs received employment coaching. One hundred twenty one contacts were made at the employment site to deal with varied issues. Most often the issues addressed were related to tardiness, conflict with authority, disrespectful conversation, lack of self motivation, and family illnesses. Assistance was given by coaching and counseling staff, and without the support of the employment assistance program concept with in the project many client stated, "If I didn't have some to call and talk to I would have walk off the job."

Accessing coaches and counselors for this population at the close of the project resulted in the following employees remaining on the job over ninety days. One hundred and ten clients remained on the first site they received employment. 43 clients changed jobs twice. The remaining clients working in the government pool maintain stability although some were shifted to entry level sites that best matched their skilled.

PROGRAM IMPACT

This employment readiness program identified a void in Southwest Louisiana. Prior to our effort, no other program addressed consent to drug test, assistance in completing application processing, free drug tests, case management, and coaching. These wrap around services have facilitated the employment for over one hundred seventy six families. We have impacted over seven hundred individuals within the family units. Sixty four children received day care assistance. 19 families received transportation assistance and contacts were made with Fountain Projects clients and family members for support with:

- clothing/food
- Hurricane Gustav/Ike evacuation
- utility bills and deposit
- rent
- family counseling
- nutritional counseling
- Kwanzaa Camp
- Thanksgiving baskets
- Christmas Baskets
- Christmas toys
- school supplies

CONCLUSION

Based on a social work model each client received a psycho social assessment prior to placement on an employment site. The results demonstrated that ninety five percent of the clients had issues related to stress, under employment, and low self esteem. They had been directly traumatized by violence and or Hurricanes Katrina/Rita and Hurricanes Gustav/Ike. Domestic violence was an additional key indicator resulting in prior employment losses or dismissals. Thirty-two clients stated they missed days of work due to conflicts or companions which resulted in bruises on the body preventing them from attending work for days at a time. An additional percentage of the population noted that the lack of child care support systems cause them to loose employment when children became ill and stayed home. Often they were faced with keeping older children at home or staying home themselves. 80% of the client population had been employed with three or more jobs at or below the minimum wage. Thirty percent of the population tested indicated they had zero high school education and had dropped out at age thirteen or fourteen. Over 50% of the population had used drugs recreationally or to get thru the stresses of urban living. Of that population seventy five percent were men and twenty five percent were woman. The most common issue with the population accessed was that ninety percent were unable to turn on the computer and/or to complete a resume for employment.

Staff has noted five key successes within the goals reached for the program

1. Applicants becoming employees became consistent with being on time for work.
2. Attendance and attitude improved when employees were contacted by an employment coach weekly between the first eight weeks of employment.
3. Attendance for employees had a high correlation with school attendance with children impacted by the program. When children stayed home parents stayed home from work.
4. When transportation needs were reliable employees attended work on time and would work over time when available.
5. Food, transportation, lodging and a paycheck when consistent in the home—the domestic violence incidence totally decreased in client population.

We rejoice in the opportunity to partner with the Fountain Baptist Church, Summit, NJ and applaud the visionary leadership of Pastor J. Michael Sanders. We further appreciate the working relationship that we have enjoyed with Dr. David Emmanuel Goatley and the Lott Carey staff in Washington, DC.
